'Kickback' Case Revived

Suspension Of 11 Urged In Beaver Road Scandal

Group Seen Involved In 5% 'Scheme'

Gov. Lawrence Told Penalty Could Apply Until Investigation

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department has been asked by Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith to suspend 11 of its employes in Beaver County until charges of a 5 per cent kickback scheme are investigated.

Smith's request was made Friday in a letter to Gov. Lawrence. The Republican fiscal officer said it supplemented a 55-page report filed June 5 after an audit of Highways Department operations in the county.

That report prompted the firing of Samuel G. Neff, former Beaver County Democratic chairman and state senator, from his $12,500-a-year job as manager of the state workmen's insurance fund.

Smith's letter said that "after complete review of the entire matter" his office felt that the 11 employes "were to varying degrees involved in the perpetration and furtherance of the '5 per cent scheme'."

Smith named: David J. Florentine, New Brighton; John Symonak, Industry; Lester Beightley, Darlington R. D. 2; George Mazzant, Ellwood City; John McKenna, Beaver Falls R. D. 1; Paul Fesler, New Galilee R. D.; Bert Kyle, New Brighton; Salvatore Sciaidone, Ellwood City; Thomas McNamara, Ambridge; William A. Slade, Ellwood City, and William J. Moore, Hookstown.

The Highways Department furnished the hometowns of the 11 men. It said Fesler is assistant superintendent of highways for the county. The other 10 are foremen.

Mental Case Suspected In Station Blast

Hospital Escapee Has Knowledge Of Home-Made Bombs

BOSTON (AP) — An escaped mental patient with a knowledge of home-made bombs was sought today for questioning about a bomb explosion in a rapid transit waiting room in which 38 were injured Thursday.

Police identified him as John G. Feller, 23, of the Roslindale section of Boston, who escaped Tuesday from a mental hospital at Wingdale, N.Y.

Feller was committed for having a home-made bomb in his possession at a recent Fidel Castro rally in New York.

The bomb was described as an 11-inch explosive device filled with sulphur and zinc. Police said Feller had exploded two such bombs in New York City's Central Park within a year.

The bomb in a coin locker at the elevated North Station here shattered a waiting room and part of the platform. Some of the persons injured were thrown 30 feet to the street by the blast. Others were struck by debris on the street below and six were injured as they sat in an approaching train.

Three are in serious condition.

A conference of law officers, fire department officials and ballistics experts Friday agreed that a large quantity of black powder, possibly 25 pounds, exploded.

Police appealed to the public to come forward with any information they might have about the explosion. A special telephone line was set up at police headquarters to receive information. Police protection was promised informers.

Recount Slated For Stanton's Vote On Bonds

The Jefferson County Board of Elections at Steubenville has been petitioned to conduct a recount of votes of Stanton Local School District's $498,000 bond issue which was passed by a slim margin in a special election June 2.

The bond issue received an affirmative vote of 61.9 with 60 per cent required.

The board said today a recount will be started Wednesday morning at 9:30 in Steubenville.

The bond issue was for construction of a new elementary school in the Empire area and for installation of inside toilet facilities in the Hammondsville elementary school.

It passed by a vote of 702 for to 432 against, with most of the opposition coming from the two riverfront communities of Port Homer and Empire.

The board said it will also check the names of all who voted to determine if they were qualified.

A qualified voter must be 21 years of age, have lived in Ohio for a year, in Jefferson County 40 days, and in the precinct in which the person voted for 40 days, the Board of Elections said.

A recount may be asked by any committee of five qualified voters, the board explained. Seven petitioned.

The petitioners for the recount included Evelyn Byers, Betty Stephen, John S. Dunlap, Herbert Myler, Achen DeVaux, Harry A. Springer and John Boley, according to the election board.

Mrs. Hallie B. Erskine is clerk of the board.

Florida Coed Assault Case Nearing End

2 Of 4 Youths Say She Submitted To Them Voluntarily

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Defense attorneys for four white youths charged with rape said they were ready today with additional testimony that a Negro coed submitted voluntarily. They said there was no legal proof that the girl had been raped.

Two of the defendants testified Friday that no force was applied when they had sexual relations with her in a lonely wooded area May 2.

The slender coed, whose name cannot be publicized under Florida law, testified Thursday that she pleaded in vain while she was raped repeatedly at knife and gunpoint by four white youths.

"I started crying and they said to shut up," the 19-year-old freshman said. "There wasn't anything I could do with four men with a knife and a gun but do what they said to do."

Testimony by the defendants has referred to both a knife and a gun—a knife drawn and a shotgun brandished when the coed was abducted.

The four-day trial worked toward a close after a grueling 16-hour session Friday that was concluded abruptly a few minutes before midnight when the sister of one of the defendants broke down on the stand.

Circuit Judge W. May Walker called an overnight recess when Mrs. Maudine Reeves, 31-year-old sister of Willion T. Collinsworth, broke into uncontrollable sobs. She was relating to the jury the story of her early life of poverty in a small West Florida town.

Collinsworth, who is married and has two children, will be the last of the defendants called to the stand.

IBOP Signs Contract With Palestine Firm

EAST PALESTINE — A new wage contract granting an approximate total increase of 18 cents an hour over a three-year period was signed by the W. S. George Pottery Co. and International Brotherhood of Operative Potters Local 31 Friday afternoon.

A package deal, the increase also includes fringe benefits which will be granted during the period. The contract covers an estimated 310 employes and becomes effective Monday.

It also covers seniority rights and grievance procedures. Negotiations between the firm and the IBOP started Wednesday and concluded Friday afternoon with the two issuing a joint statement about 5 p. m.

The negotiations were conducted in Council Chambers at City Hall and the statement said "harmonious relations prevailed throughout the negotiation period."

The contract was signed separately because the firm is not a member of the U. S. Potters Association.

The firm was reorganized and refinanced about a year ago after it was declared bankrupt. The refinancing was done through the local sale of $200,000 mortgage revenue bonds and a $250,000 Small Business Administration loan.

Senators Cool To New Setup In Air Defense

Master Plan Shifts From Emphasis On Bomber To Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's new master plan for air defenses has met with little enthusiasm among some senators who have been critical of defense policies.

The plan, outlined by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy Friday, involves a shift in emphasis from defense against manned bombers to defense against the ocean-spanning missiles of the future.

It would cut back funds for the rival anti-aircraft missiles of the Army and Air Force, the Nike-Hercules and the Bomarc. It would add funds to the Army's Nike-Zeus program, aimed at eventual development of missiles to knock down enemy intercontinental missiles.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) gave general approval. He is chairman of the Armed Services Committee which prodded Pentagon officials into defining the new strategy.

Russell estimated about 1½ billion dollars would be saved by the Nike-Hercules and Bomarc cutbacks.

But Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash), a frequent critic of administration defense policies, called the new plan ridiculous and "a continuation on a reduced basis of the previous master compromise of the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) engaged in long debate with Secretary McElroy in the closed door session of the committee. He talked about the new program as well as what parts of it could be disclosed without endangering national security, other committeemen said.

U. S. Says Geneva Prospects Fading

GENEVA (AP)—American officials said today prospects appear dim for the Soviet Union and the Western powers reaching any agreement on Berlin and Germany at the current Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Advisers of Secretary of State Christian A. Herter expect the Soviets to launch a propaganda offensive blaming the West for failure of the talks and marshalling world pressure for a summit conference anyway.

There is a possibility the Western foreign ministers may seek a recess of their conference and leave the way open to get together again.

President Eisenhower has made plain that he has no intention of meeting Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev unless the foreign ministers show enough progress to justify a heads-of-government conference.

With sessions of the foreign ministers recessed over the weekend, the showdown is expected to come early next week.

The French reportedly share the gloom of the Americans about chances of success. But the British cling to a hope that the Soviets might back down on demands the West get out of Berlin and seek an interim agreement to lift the crisis surrounding the divided city.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd flew to London Friday night to see Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who has been the leading advocate in the West for a summit conference.

"I think we have got to be patient," Lloyd told newsmen on arriving at London airport. "We have got to be firm about essentials but nevertheless patient about the negotiations."

Road Mishaps Cause Injury For 5 Persons

Foreign Sports Car Upsets In One Of 2 District Accidents

Five persons were injured in two accidents Friday night, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Mrs. Shirley Myers, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at City Hospital for neck and back injuries. Their daughter, Sharon Myers, 2, was examined at the hospital but no apparent injuries were found. Myers suffered contusions of the right wrist.

Mrs. William Icenhower of Cleveland, a passenger in Icenhower's car, suffered a small laceration of the right leg and contusions of the right knee.

Icenhower was cited for reckless operation.

Tired Of Being Guinea Pigs

TV Classes For The Birds, Compton Students Declare

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—TV, as an instructor, is strictly a one-eyed monster from nowhere among the crew-cut set at Compton College.

The collegians say:

They're tired of being guinea pigs in a pioneer TV education project.

Video instruction has all the fascination of an hour-long commercial.

It gets a zero in the campus audience rating — compared with an old-fashioned professor you can talk back to.

Friday more than 200 cut classes and picketed the campus with placards protesting "automatized education" and "robot classrooms." They hanged in effigy a headless figure called "pioneering spirit."

Sophomore Ted Hallisey, 20, a lead of the Student Organization for Better Education, explained:

"When a student sees TV, he expects entertainment. He's expecting 'Gunsmoke,' not algebra. And there is no instructor to ask questions of and clear up misconceptions. It destroys the entire concept of student - teacher relationships."

The anti-TV faction says it has signatures of 1,500 students seeking to oust TV from the classroom and return it to the living room. The two-year Southern California school has an enrollment of 1,800.

College President Paul Martin, who introduced TV instruction, blamed the faculty for the fuss.

He said only a minority of the students really oppose the project and he hopes to expand TV instruction because, he said, it saves tax - payers' money and helps solve the teacher shortage.

The college has four television classrooms of 40 students each—in freshman courses of English, psychology and algebra — under the supervision of a single instructor. Lectures featuring Compton professors are filmed on campus for showing over classroom TV screens.

Martin is backed by the economy-minded California Taxpayers Assn. and opposed by the California Teachers Assn. The teachers say they don't mind TV as a supplementary teaching aid but oppose it as a substitute for an instructor.

Man, 51, Convicted Of 1933 Slaying Case

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Arthur J. Eisenman, 51, was convicted Friday of first degree murder in the slaying of Nadine Vogel Love, 6, in April, 1933. Her death was unsolved for 25 years.

A district court jury which brought in the verdict recommended life imprisonment.

Governor Files Petition

Long's Attorneys Confer On Move In Clinic Release

GALVESTON, TEX. (AP)—Attorneys for Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana conferred today about procedure when Long seeks release from a mental clinic here.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus comes up Monday before District Judge L. D. Godard.

Long, in his petition Friday, said he was "illegally confined and restrained in his liberty at the John Sealy Hospital." He was flown from Baton Rouge to Galveston May 30, and, according to his petition, was drugged and strapped to a stretcher for removal from the governor's mansion.

And now, he contends, he is "a governor in exile by force and kidnaping." Lt. Gov. Letther Frazar has been carrying on the Governor's functions.

Long's three court-appointed attorneys are Adrian S. Levy Sr., former Galveston mayor; Jean Hosey, and Fine S. Bedford.

"If the writ is granted," Hosey said Friday night, "then we are faced with practical problems of what would be in Governor Long's best interest."

What the petition for a writ amounts to is a challenge to Texas' jurisdiction in a case involving a citizen of another state who claims he was transferred to that state against his will.

The petition was signed in Long's own handwriting, "Earl K. Long, Governor in exile by force and kidnaping."

Set for Tuesday, the day after the habeas corpus hearing, is a hearing in which the sanity of the 63-year-old governor would be the main issue. Mrs. Long and political supporters of the governor have tried to persuade him to submit to voluntary treatment in order to avoid the sanity hearing, but Long has declined. Probate Judge Hugh Gibson ordered the sanity hearing after doctors agreed with Mrs. Long that the governor was mentally and physically exhausted. Psychiatrists said Long should be confined to the hospital "for his own protection and that of others."

Notice. Trades and Labor Council Delegates. Regular meeting of the council will be held Tues., June 16, 7:30 p. m. I.B.O.P. Hall instead of Wed. June 17. Due to conventions and the holiday the regular meeting scheduled Wed., July 1 is cancelled. By order of Pres.—Ad.

Weirton Man Is 'Fair' After Leap In River

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Weirton, W. Va. man survived a 100-foot jump into the Ohio River Friday night. James Jenkins Jr., 25, was reported in fair condition today at Ohio Valley Hospital.

His mother, Mrs. Louise Jenkins, said her son suddenly stopped their car on the Fort Steuben Bridge, which carries U.S. 22 and Ohio 43 into West Virginia.

"Tomorrow you'll have one less son," Mrs. Jenkins quoted him as saying.

Jenkins stripped to his underwear and jumped. After hitting the water he swam the 100 yards to shore. Police, alerted by the bridge attendant, pulled Jenkins from the river and rushed him to the hospital.

He suffered internal injuries and possible spinal injuries.

Several persons have been killed in jumps from the bridge.

Mental Case Suspected In Station Blast

Hospital Escapee Has Knowledge Of Home-Made Bombs

BOSTON (AP) — An escaped mental patient with a knowledge of home-made bombs was sought today for questioning about a bomb explosion in a rapid transit waiting room in which 38 were injured Thursday.

Feller was committed for having a home-made bomb in his possession at a recent Fidel Castro rally in New York.

The bomb was described as an 11-inch explosive device filled with sulphur and zinc. Police said Feller had exploded two such bombs in New York City's Central Park within a year.

Governor Files Petition

Long's Attorneys Confer On Move In Clinic Release

GALVESTON, TEX. (AP)—Attorneys for Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana conferred today about procedure when Long seeks release from a mental clinic here.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus comes up Monday before District Judge L. D. Godard.

Long, in his petition Friday, said he was "illegally confined and restrained in his liberty at the John Sealy Hospital." He was flown from Baton Rouge to Galveston May 30, and, according to his petition, was drugged and strapped to a stretcher for removal from the governor's mansion.

And now, he contends, he is "a governor in exile by force and kidnaping." Lt. Gov. Letther Frazar has been carrying on the Governor's functions.

Long's three court-appointed attorneys are Adrian S. Levy Sr., former Galveston mayor; Jean Hosey, and Fine S. Bedford.

"If the writ is granted," Hosey said Friday night, "then we are faced with practical problems of what would be in Governor Long's best interest."

What the petition for a writ amounts to is a challenge to Texas' jurisdiction in a case involving a citizen of another state who claims he was transferred to that state against his will.

The petition was signed in Long's own handwriting, "Earl K. Long, Governor in exile by force and kidnaping."

Set for Tuesday, the day after the habeas corpus hearing, is a hearing in which the sanity of the 63-year-old governor would be the main issue. Mrs. Long and political supporters of the governor have tried to persuade him to submit to voluntary treatment in order to avoid the sanity hearing, but Long has declined. Probate Judge Hugh Gibson ordered the sanity hearing after doctors agreed with Mrs. Long that the governor was mentally and physically exhausted. Psychiatrists said Long should be confined to the hospital "for his own protection and that of others."

Farms about midnight, officers said.

Whealdon had started to pass another car when oncoming traffic forced him over sharply. The car left the highway and rolled over, officers said. Considerable damage resulted to his car.

Whealdon was treated at the hospital for contusions of the left shoulder and left knee. Miss Linda Nagel, 21, of 424 Vine St., a passenger, was treated for contusions of the shoulder, neck and knee.

Car Rams Wall When Brakes Fail On Grade

A West End woman apparently escaped injury Friday night when her husband's car rammed a concrete block wall after the brakes failed while descending the steep grade on Florence St.

Police said Wilda McElroy, 38, of 1009 Florence St. was taken to a hospital for examination.

Harry C. McElroy told police he was descending Florence St. about 9 p. m. when the brakes failed.

McElroy said he made a turn onto John St. in an attempt to get the car halted but was unable to do so and the auto went through the intersection at John and May Sts. before striking the wall at the home of Harry Nally, 614 John St.

Police said 5½ feet of the wall along with a fence and picket gate at the Nally home were damaged. The right side of McElroy's car also was damaged, they added.

Martin D. Guildoo, 50, of Canton St. told police he was en route up St. Clair Ave. when Galloway crossed the center line and the back end of his car skidded into the Guildoo auto and almost struck a car driven by Donald Smith, also of Gardendale.

Guildoo turned around and stopped Galloway at Broadway and St. Clair Ave., police said.

A collision at 11:15 p. m. on Jackson St. involved vehicles operated by Sam Diloreto, 46, of 1030 Commerce St., Wellsville, and Rodney C. Evans, 36, of Dresden Ave., officers said.

An elderly Wellsville man who shot a man in the leg in a scuffle over a gun early today was bound over to the Grand Jury at a preliminary hearing before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Antonio Senisgali, 62, of 1431 Main St. pleaded innocent to the charge of using a firearm with "malicious intent to kill or wound." He posted $2,000 bond for release.

Senisgali was arrested at his home at 4 a. m. today about 30 minutes after Richard Arnold, 27, of 1311 Main St. was wounded in the left leg.

Police said Senisgali was involved in an argument with Richard Dock of Main St. They were on the sidewalk in the 1300 block of Main and as the argument became hotter, Senisgali went home for a gun.

Police said when he returned Arnold, who had been watching, attempted to take the gun from him. During the ensuing scuffle, the .32-caliber revolver fired, striking Arnold in the leg between the ankle and knee. He was taken to City Hospital.

Residents of the area notified police but when they arrived Senisgali had gone home, officers said.

Wellsville Man Held For Jury For Wounding

An elderly Wellsville man who shot a man in the leg in a scuffle over a gun early today was bound over to the Grand Jury at a preliminary hearing before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Antonio Senisgali, 62, of 1431 Main St. pleaded innocent to the charge of using a firearm with "malicious intent to kill or wound." He posted $2,000 bond for release.

Senisgali was arrested at his home at 4 a. m. today about 30 minutes after Richard Arnold, 27, of 1311 Main St. was wounded in the left leg.

Police said Senisgali was involved in an argument with Richard Dock of Main St. They were on the sidewalk in the 1300 block of Main and as the argument became hotter, Senisgali went home for a gun.

Police said when he returned Arnold, who had been watching, attempted to take the gun from him. During the ensuing scuffle, the .32-caliber revolver fired, striking Arnold in the leg between the ankle and knee. He was taken to City Hospital.

Residents of the area notified police but when they arrived Senisgali had gone home, officers said.

Open Agreements Secretly Arrived At

Two parleys of intense interest to all of us have made clear what never was in any real doubt. When negotiations are conducted in goldfish bowls, they are for the benefit of the spectators. The only way to get down to business is to get rid of the spectators.

This has been demonstrated in Geneva, where the foreign ministers conference has been serving its propaganda purposes, and in New York, where the steel negotiators have been impressing their partisans and, they hope, the public. There has been a good show staged in both places.

But results, as far as firm agreements are concerned, have been nil.

Most Americans have taken their thoughts about the proper way to conduct negotiations from a point made by President Wilson in his Fourteen Points for world peace after World War I: "Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at."

This has been widely misinterpreted to justify wide-open negotiations, though that is not what Woodrow Wilson had in mind. He explained in a letter to Secretary of State Lansing: "When I pronounced for open diplomacy, I meant not that there should be no private discussions of delicate matters, but that no secret agreements should be entered into, and that all international relations, when fixed, should be open above board, and explicit."

THAT IS the direct opposite of today's popular idea of negotiating sessions with dozens of people present, press, radio and television waiting outside the meeting room for the latest press releases and intervews and daily repercussions from everything proposed and even hinted at.

For example, the stir created by the report that Andrei Gromyko had issued an "ultimatum" to the Western Allies that had been rejected firmly by the United States because it sounded like an attempt "to dictate" a Berlin settlement appears now to have been a tempest in a press-release teapot. Gromyko has rejected the implication in the words "ultimatum" and "dictate." He was not dictating an ultimatum but making a proposal, he says. There has been that kind of thing on both sides.

Could there be secret negotiations — the "private discussions" referred to by President Wilson? Has the idea of wide-open negotiations for propaganda effect caught on so powerfully that old-fashioned talks between individuals, with a view to reaching genuine understandings, have become impossible?

THAT MAY BE what Premier Khrushchev hopes to find out if he sits down face to face with President Eisenhower. Even the high-level Geneva conference in 1955, though held in the customary goldfish bowl and with not too successful results, was followed by less tension in the cold war than had been there before. Something more than propaganda was achieved.

Whether the negotiations are about steel or international relations, they need to be between individuals who can make commitments and be sure of their backing once the commitments have been made public. There must be more than propaganda.

Open agreements secretly arrived at would be ideal. But whether the public would understand what was going on is doubtful.

A Question Asked In Advance

The Department of Labor's predictions of population and labor force for the 15 years from 1960 to 1975 suggest a question that should be asked in advance so there will be time to prepare a satisfactory answer.

Provided there is a huge increase in part-time workers during this period, as the Department of Labor believes there will be, what is going to be done about statistics on employment and unemployment to make them more realistic than they are now?

It has been evident for a long time that these statistics are susceptible to misuse by wishful thinkers at both extremes and thoroughly confusing to people in the middle, looking for information.

When the purpose is to make things look rosy, the statistics can be flooded with a rosy glow. When the purpose is to make things look gloomy, they can be blacked out in morbid shadows.

When it was the idea of the Spendocrats early this year to turn the U.S. Treasury inside out, they were using statistics on employment and unemployment for crowbars. Now that it is the idea of the people who resisted the Spendocrats to prove that they were unduly alarmed when they said the United States was in a tailspin, statistics on employment and unemployment are lending themselves to the credo that the economy is climbing steadily to the moon and beyond.

It can well be imagined what the effect of adding more millions of part-time workers to the statistical base would be, if all part-time workers who moved in and out of the labor force periodically were to be listed as full-time unemployed citizens every time they became available for employment. It would be as ridiculous as listing summertime jobseekers who are wintertime students in the same bracket with family heads seeking year-around employment. That is being done now.

As soon as the country gets a cost-of-living index that tells what it costs to live, it should go to work tooth and nail on an employment - unemployment total that tells how many people are genuinely employed and unemployed.

Display The Flag

Flag Day will carry added significance Sunday since we're now 50 proud states instead of the 48 which had prevailed for so many years.

With the addition of Alaska and Hawaii to the Union, the American flag has become a symbol of even greater meaning to the democratic way of life as more and more people come under its protective stars and stripes.

Sunday will be the 182nd anniversary of Congress' adoption of the national emblem and display of the flag will serve to emphasize each citizen's allegiance to the nation and demonstrate his or her pride as an American.

East Liverpool and district residents should fly the flag tomorrow.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mail can now be delivered by guided missile. You can get a letter by direct hit. When you hear a roar over the roof you can't be positive whether it's an enemy attack, a moon rocket or the letter carrier.

Correspondence with the speed of sound may soon see the following complaint from a gal to a distant boy friend:

"Dearest Ted: You must write oftener. Your letter mailed from midocean almost two hours ago at noon did not reach me until five after two. It missed my town by 300 miles and missed me by an extra five as I live in the outskirts.

"It is nice to get fast mail but not so good when a girl doesn't know whether to blame a lost love-letter on the postmaster general, a submarine gunner's poor marksmanship or a defective missile.

"I went to the post office to complain but the man said it was doing the best it could considering the underwater craft, the guided missiles, the electronic developments, etc., involved. He said naturally a few letters from a boy in Kansas City to a girl in Hoboken would fall in the sea or hit a mountain but that she should be patient.

"He said one of your letters was late due to rudder trouble (in the guided missile not in your letter). He said Mr. Summerfield was a wonder and would soon make it possible to send me a postcard from outer space and deliver a Sears Roebuck catalogue by moonship.

"Father is all upset. He got a letter at 750 miles an hour yesterday and found it was just a bill. He says he is going to answer it and insist he sent the money long ago by a rocket which blew up in the air. Lots of love, darling. Mabel."

AS WE SCORE the Geneva meetings it's a tie on stomach ulcers and can go into extra innings.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is going from the oleo commercials into her own TV show with a panel of students. This will be one of the few chances to see the lady when NOT IN MOTION. The program will be a sort of Hyde Park Open End. One rumor is that it will be called "Around the World in 30 Minutes."

Elia Kazan got an honorary degree at Yale for "turning the words of the country's leading dramatists into incandescent stage productions." He was the center of attraction in a parade. "If Yale gave him his head he would turn this commencement parade into a super production and get it on Broadway," said one spectator.

"Con Edison To Give Blood"—headline. That should please Mike Quill.

United States has a drugstore exhibit at the Soviet exposition where the Russian exhibit is largely mechanical. Possibly to recall days when the only hot arguments were over banana splits, hair oils and spring tonics.

Some honorary degrees for 1959: Cheevers, Otis X.: For distinguished horse sense. As chairman of a Drive Safely Week campaign you suddenly declared, "Let's face it. The idea one week's effort can get to first base in this frightful situation is crazy. It calls for 51 more weeks of nonstop effort, with cops, courts and the public co-operation." Take any degree in the house, Otis.

Figgsby, Jason Z.: Your outstanding attitude as an airwave official entitles you to your choice of the highest honorary degree for this one remark, "Let's make our commercials sensible, go easy on the jingles and realize that maps of the human torso showing the route (with detours) taken by a pill are for the birds." We are also sending you a case of champagne.

Cooksey, Hilary Q.: We decorate you as the jurist of the year. In handling the case of a notorious hoodlum, who had evaded the police for years, you said, "A bum is a bum is a bum and no lawyer is going to get me to put him under a low bond so he can keep in circulation." One degree for you is not enough, judge.

Beedlekin, Caleb V.: Have a hatful of degrees, sir, as the economist of the year. In giving your opinions you declared, honestly, "I am not POSITIVE." Wottaman!

Goobleniffer, Sydney H.: As a member of Congress you voted four out of seven times on a measure without turning pale and asking yourself, "Will this cost me votes?" That's far better than average and we are not only giving you a degree but a barrel of green stamps.

Wifflecoots, Simeon R.: Few men deserve higher recognition. As a newly chosen yacht club commodore you scorn the coat of a rear admiral. Not only that, but you were careful about the hat.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

"You will be happy as long as you do God's will," said Fred B. Snite, Jr., who lived the last 18 of his 44 years in an iron lung, which he could leave for only 23 minutes at a time or, with a chest respirator, for two hours daily.

Stricken with polio in China while on a world tour, he struggled for life in an iron lung and then made the arduous trip back to America, his life dependent on the flow of electricity. The faith of this devout Catholic was strong. He went to Lourdes, not expecting a miracle, but to ask God, if he were not cured, to give him the strength to live in the tank the rest of his life.

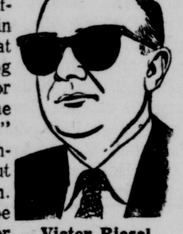

He married and became the father of three children. He attended sports events and church in the lung. He played in championship bridge tournaments. He was known across the nation as the smiling "Boiler Kid."

"Like Frederick, we are all helpless creatures," said his wife Teresa, "but with God's help we can become pillars of strength . . . his real story is of his beautiful soul, his flawless spirituality, his love of God."

Hoffa Moves Into Oil Industry

By Victor Riesel

Crime-cracking Bob Kennedy has cast the McClellan committee's final drama with a full set of characters who will not upstage the star — namely Jim Hoffa. Hoffa will feel in his element at the big hearing scheduled for Tuesday, June 16. The "boys" will play themselves — about 100 of them. They'll all be there under subpoena in one room — all the Fifth Amendment set of past hearings.

Victor Riesel

Counselor Kennedy and Chairman McClellan will make one last effort to produce a picture of raw power — and the raw ones whose muscle made that power. After that, it will be up to the Congress and the public — without benefit of committee. An era will end.

But not the drive of Hoffa and his helots — which is not a dirty word, fellows. The Teamsters will move en masse with precision from the Senate hearing room on the one strategic industry that Jim Hoffa and his power specialist, Harold Gibbons, want most.

THAT'S THE FUEL industry — from which pours the gasoline for all motor transport, the Diesel oil for railroad, barge and ship engines, the high octane gas for commercial passenger and freight airlines and kerosene for the swooshing jets.

Give Hoffa and his strategist, Gibbons, this fuel and they'll set records on the road to power.

During their inner sanctum conversations, it is reported, the Teamster leaders talk not so much of tying all rail, air, ship and truck unions into one coalition — as they talk of weaving the oil refinery unions into their transport network.

A distribution strike at the spout end of the refineries could slow or stall all traffic as easily as if Hoffa had a magic whistle which could stop every wheel in mid-revolution.

This is simple the old warehouse technique. It sometimes isn't enough to control truck traffic. Control the men in the warehouses and a strike closes all firms depending on supplies from those bins.

IT ISN'T ENOUGH for Hoffa to control 150,000 petroleum truck drivers and home fuel deliverers. Hoffa wants the industry from spout to spout — from the crude oil tanks to gas station pumps.

That's why Hoffa personally has been hedge-hopping from Washington to Louisiana, to Texas, to California, to New Jersey, to New England and to points in between.

That's why he has been wooing and wining and dining the leaders of scores of independent oil workers unions in hotels from Miami Beach to the Potomac shores.

His first try was flung at the 20,000 Standard Oil workers — now in something called the Esso Labor Council. More recently he has been conferring with the leaders of some outfits known as the Socony-Mobil Independent Unions.

The Teamsters have their researchers going over data at other companies such as Humble Oil. This is no paper war — if you don't count dollar bills, that is. That Esso Labor Council is real. On it are two delegates from each of the independent unions at Esso plants in six states. They coordinate their "problems" with Hoffa's activities. They confer with Teamster leaders.

IF HOFFA can tie them up in one Teamster Petroleum Division, he can call them out on strike some day.

Then all transport could be threatened with paralysis. Each of the big companies produce some gasoline, some Diesel, some high octane gas. Strike the refineries or the delivery trucks and you needn't strike any other distributive industry to make the nation stand still.

No Diesel oil — no full railroad schedules. No high octane gas — no air travel, no air freight. No engine fuel — no shipping and no barge transport. No gas — no long or short truck hauls.

And no violation of contracts anywhere. The employer simply would not have the fuel. That wouldn't be the local union's fault, would it?

That's why it will be interesting to see the power elite all gathered in one room in the final act of the McClellan drama.

Japs Affirm U.S. Ties

By Raymond Moley

When I arrived in Japan in March, some American "liberals" over there told me with extraordinary assurance that Prime Minister Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party was in a decline and that any day the present Cabinet would fall.

These "liberals" eagerly introduced me to Socialist leaders and left-wing economists for confirmation of their wishful thinking. Underneath it all was the suggestion, subtly conveyed, that the Japanese were yearning for trade with Red China and that if we recognized that regime under the sort of promises freely given by such outfits, Japan would go along, too, and all would be well—or better.

Neutralism was in the air—that is, their air.

I have been no stranger to such wiles. In England before the election in 1950, the same sort assured me that the Socialist government of Attlee would be returned with more than a 100 majority in the House of Commons. "Liberal" propaganda is the same everywhere. The "majority" proved to be two. It is wise to wait until the votes are counted.

However, as I talked with Socialist leaders in Japan in the days that followed my arrival, it became increasingly apparent that there is no real Socialist party. There are only Socialists of all sorts and shapes of ideology.

There was no responsible party at all. And Japan, enjoying the fruits of a prosperity based upon essentially capitalistic institutions, was yearning for no change.

Kishi did not fall, and in the April elections of mayors and governors in the prefectures, conservative Liberal-Democrats won all along the line. This was especially true in Tokyo, the vital center of the nation.

Now, in June, in the election of one-half of the upper house of the National Diet, the House of Councillors, all that the "liberals" and neutralists were saying in March is refuted. Kishi's party not only held its present control in the House of Councillors but lifted its majority by five seats to 132 in a total of 250.

In the nationwide race for the seats elected at large, the Liberal-Democrats polled more than 12 million votes; the Socialists, 7,700,000. Compared with the vote three years ago, this was a considerable gain for the conservatives and a loss for the Socialists. The small Communists percentage of 2.1 dropped to 1.9.

Considering the firm friendship for the United States constantly emphasized by the Kishi government, this is a clear gain in U.S.-Japan relations. It is a repudiation of neutralization and a rebuff to those who have been advocating the recognition of Red China.

It certainly should be a warning to those American "liberals" who would repudiate our international obligations under the U.N. and to Nationalist China by recognizing the Chinese Communists.

Under the Liberal-Democratic regime there has been encouragement to the growth and strengthening of free enterprise. The tangible evidences of the fruits of this sort of economic liberty are present in more for all—electric appliances and abundant electric power, excellent railway and bus service, more leisure time and reasonable social services by the government.

With an understanding of trade problems by us and more and more economic and cultural intercourse with material capital investment over there by American industry, we may count for an indefinite time upon Japan as our strongest ally in the Far East.

The popular expression, "A little bird told me," is really borrowed from the Bible, Ecclesiastes 10:20, where it reads: "For a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter."

Khaki uniforms were first worn by American soldiers during the Spanish-American War. these being adopted because the regulation dark blue uniforms of that time were too warm for service in the tropics.

U.S., British Parallel

By David Lawrence

Political Status Similar In Both Nations

LONDON

There's an extraordinary parallel between the political situation in Great Britain and in the United States. Conservative governments with a liberal flavor are in power in both countries and both face a general election soon.

David Lawrence

No outstanding issues have yet appeared in either country, though the nature of the running attack on the incumbent party in both Britain and America is very much the same.

Thus, the British Socialist Labor party has been trying to capitalize on the unemployment situation, just as the Democratic party has in the United States but, fortunately, the two countries are emerging from the recent recession and it looks like a boom ahead for both.

Spotty areas of unemployment still exist but the drop in the jobless figure in Britain has also been very sharp in recent weeks. On the whole, the improvement of the standard of living in England, has been such that the Conservative government, headed by Prime Minister Macmillan, is already borrowing for the stump an American political slogan of yesteryears: "You never had it so good!"

Political trends in Britain as well as in the United States are primarily affected by economic contentment or discontent or by emotional issues, particularly those related to war or peace. That's why there has been pressure in England for an agreement with the Soviets to suspend nuclear tests and a considerable demand for a summit meeting.

The drive for these two things is associated in the public mind with progress toward peace. Indeed, there is noticeable an almost pacificistic sentiment which doesn't appear to have reasoned very deeply that such a manifestation could in itself mislead a potential adversary into a wrong move which might bring on a war.

Oddly enough, the pressure for a summit conference comes as persistently from the opposition party here as it does from the Democrats in the United States.

The politicians have not forgotten that "peace and prosperity" can work for either political party if somehow the public can be convinced that the credit for achieving it lies with the champions of that doctrine and that the blame for frustrating the objective belongs to the opposite party.

Actually, there isn't any evidence yet that the parties in Britain have crystallized their viewpoint on political issues. For the present the opposition in England, as in America, contents itself with efforts to make it appear that the party in power isn't really as capable as are the folks who are trying to get into office.

But there is one issue that may turn out to be a gift to the Conservatives. It is the British Labor party's schism over the proposal of various trade unions which by resolution recently demanded that Britain of its own accord — that is to say "unilaterally" — should agree to stop all nuclear tests, no matter what other nations do.

This type of proposal appeared in vague form during the 1956 presidential campaign in the United States and accounted for a considerable loss of votes to the Democrats. The Republican rebuttal was that America couldn't afford to give up testing unless foolproof agreements were reached with the Soviets.

The suggestion heard in British governmental circles is that, if the Socialist Labor party really backs the idea of "unilateral" suspension of nuclear tests, the country will be persuaded to believe that it cannot entrust the reins of power to any government with such a concept of national duty.

The Conservatives would be quick to take advantage of the split in the Socialist Labor party ranks. For the more responsible elements in that party are as bitterly opposed to any "unilateral" action as anybody in the present government.

There can be no doubt that a conservative trend has developed in Britain and that the British people have veered away from the nationalization concepts on which the Socialist Labor party has campaigned in past elections. The leaders of that party talk less and less of socialization schemes, because they know that the confusion which resulted in such industries as were nationalized has been widely publicized.

Conservatism in economic matters has made great strides in England, as it always will when the facts are made known to all the people. Conservative governments work well with each other internationally because they have a mutual understanding of economic facts.

Purely Personal

I think everyone should make a point of attending a commencement every few years, as a reminder that youth and its hopes are eternal.

One of the really good things that has happened to householders is the rotary grass mower that gives them more leeway in the onerous chore of grass-cutting during the season when grass grows higher between rainstorms than reel-type mowers can handle with efficiency.

The death of John Foster Dulles at a critical juncture in the negotiations at Geneva may be one of those momentous happenstances that have more impact than things that were foreseen and planned for in advance.

One of the fixed and immutable things about representative democracy, in my opinion, is the multiplication of public problems to the point of satiety, where people become full of despair and decide nothing can be done about them for the time-being — which is a sign of collective wisdom.

It may be true, as some people claim it is, that the Mafia is overrated as a source of lawlessness in the United States, but no one can deny that something brings together a number of people whose names suggest a significant similarity of origin and whose activities suggest a significant similarity of interests.

Whenever experts sniff at the suggestion that a third major league is out of the question because there are not that many major-league ballplayers, I wonder about the fact managers always are being embarrassed because some player they waved off as unsuitable turns into a star when given a chance.

I have nothing against Gov. Rockefeller of New York, who seems to be topnotch in all respects, but I am growing annoyed at the systematic effort of people whose identity is obscure to build him up as a presidential candidate.

I am always being surprised by the versatility of my favorite television personality, Dinah Shore, and the pleasantest surprise is that she continues to give me the idea she is just as surprised as I am.

It may be inconsequential, as spokesmen for the U.S. auto industry have been quoted as saying it is, that relatively few foreign cars are sold here, but on my way to work this morning a foreign car was ahead of me, one was behind me and at one time I met three in a row going the other direction.

It was bound to happen: An adult tied a plastic bag over his head and breathed himself to drowsiness and death in his own exhalations.

James R. Hoffa's suggestion that he may be getting a bad press because Teamsters make more money than newspapermen in some communities is a slur he should have thought about twice and passed up. Lots of people make more money than newspapermen — so what? What does it prove?

The most awe-inspiring sight of our times, it seems to me, is a thin white line drawn with incredible speed across a clear sky, marking the passage of a jet airplane so high in the air the plane itself cannot be seen.

Open Agreements Secretly Arrived At

Two parleys of intense interest to all of us have made clear what never was in any real doubt. When negotiations are conducted in goldfish bowls, they are for the benefit of the spectators. The only way to get down to business is to get rid of the spectators.

This has been demonstrated in Geneva, where the foreign ministers conference has been serving its propaganda purposes, and in New York, where the steel negotiators have been impressing their partisans and, they hope, the public. There has been a good show staged in both places.

But results, as far as firm agreements are concerned, have been nil.

Most Americans have taken their thoughts about the proper way to conduct negotiations from a point made by President Wilson in his Fourteen Points for world peace after World War I: "Open covenants of peace, openly arrived at."

This has been widely misinterpreted to justify wide-open negotiations, though that is not what Woodrow Wilson had in mind. He explained in a letter to Secretary of State Lansing: "When I pronounced for open diplomacy, I meant not that there should be no private discussions of delicate matters, but that no secret agreements should be entered into, and that all international relations, when fixed, should be open above board, and explicit."

THAT IS the direct opposite of today's popular idea of negotiating sessions with dozens of people present, press, radio and television waiting outside the meeting room for the latest press releases and intervews and daily repercussions from everything proposed and even hinted at.

For example, the stir created by the report that Andrei Gromyko had issued an "ultimatum" to the Western Allies that had been rejected firmly by the United States because it sounded like an attempt "to dictate" a Berlin settlement appears now to have been a tempest in a press-release teapot. Gromyko has rejected the implication in the words "ultimatum" and "dictate." He was not dictating an ultimatum but making a proposal, he says. There has been that kind of thing on both sides.

Could there be secret negotiations — the "private discussions" referred to by President Wilson? Has the idea of wide-open negotiations for propaganda effect caught on so powerfully that old-fashioned talks between individuals, with a view to reaching genuine understandings, have become impossible?

THAT MAY BE what Premier Khrushchev hopes to find out if he sits down face to face with President Eisenhower. Even the high-level Geneva conference in 1955, though held in the customary goldfish bowl and with not too successful results, was followed by less tension in the cold war than had been there before. Something more than propaganda was achieved.

Whether the negotiations are about steel or international relations, they need to be between individuals who can make commitments and be sure of their backing once the commitments have been made public. There must be more than propaganda.

Open agreements secretly arrived at would be ideal. But whether the public would understand what was going on is doubtful.

A Question Asked In Advance

The Department of Labor's predictions of population and labor force for the 15 years from 1960 to 1975 suggest a question that should be asked in advance so there will be time to prepare a satisfactory answer.

Provided there is a huge increase in part-time workers during this period, as the Department of Labor believes there will be, what is going to be done about statistics on employment and unemployment to make them more realistic than they are now?

It has been evident for a long time that these statistics are susceptible to misuse by wishful thinkers at both extremes and thoroughly confusing to people in the middle, looking for information.

When the purpose is to make things look rosy, the statistics can be flooded with a rosy glow. When the purpose is to make things look gloomy, they can be blacked out in morbid shadows.

When it was the idea of the Spendocrats early this year to turn the U.S. Treasury inside out, they were using statistics on employment and unemployment for crowbars. Now that it is the idea of the people who resisted the Spendocrats to prove that they were unduly alarmed when they said the United States was in a tailspin, statistics on employment and unemployment are lending themselves to the credo that the economy is climbing steadily to the moon and beyond.

It can well be imagined what the effect of adding more millions of part-time workers to the statistical base would be, if all part-time workers who moved in and out of the labor force periodically were to be listed as full-time unemployed citizens every time they became available for employment. It would be as ridiculous as listing summertime job-seekers who are wintertime students in the same bracket with family heads seeking year-around employment. That is being done now.

As soon as the country gets a cost-of-living index that tells what it costs to live, it should go to work tooth and nail on an employment - unemployment total that tells how many people are genuinely employed and unemployed.

Display The Flag

Flag Day will carry added significance Sunday since we're now 50 proud states instead of the 48 which had prevailed for so many years.

With the addition of Alaska and Hawaii to the Union, the American flag has become a symbol of even greater meaning to the democratic way of life as more and more people come under its protective stars and stripes.

Sunday will be the 182nd anniversary of Congress' adoption of the national emblem and display of the flag will serve to emphasize each citizen's allegiance to the nation and demonstrate his or her pride as an American.

East Liverpool and district residents should fly the flag tomorrow.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mail can now be delivered by guided missile. You can get a letter by direct hit. When you hear a roar over the roof you can't be positive whether it's an enemy attack, a moon rocket or the letter carrier.

Correspondence with the speed of sound may soon see the following complaint from a gal to a distant boy friend:

"Dearest Ted: You must write oftener. Your letter mailed from midocean almost two hours ago at noon did not reach me until five after two. It missed my town by 300 miles and missed me by an extra five as I live in the outskirts.

"It is nice to get fast mail but not so good when a girl doesn't know whether to blame a lost love-letter on the postmaster general, a submarine gunner's poor marksmanship or a defective missile.

"I went to the post office to complain but the man said it was doing the best it could considering the underwater craft, the guided missiles, the electronic developments, etc., involved. He said naturally a few letters from a boy in Kansas City to a girl in Hoboken would fall in the sea or hit a mountain but that she should be patient.

"He said one of your letters was late due to rudder trouble (in the guided missile not in your letter). He said Mr. Summerfield was a wonder and would soon make it possible to send me a postcard from outer space and deliver a Sears Roebuck catalogue by moonship.

"Father is all upset. He got a letter at 750 miles an hour yesterday and found it was just a bill. He says he is going to answer it and insist he sent the money long ago by a rocket which blew up in the air. Lots of love, darling. Mabel."

AS WE SCORE the Geneva meetings it's a tie on stomach ulcers and can go into extra innings.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is going from the oleo commercials into her own TV show with a panel of students. This will be one of the few chances to see the lady when NOT IN MOTION. The program will be a sort of Hyde Park Open End. One rumor is that it will be called "Around the World in 30 Minutes."

Elia Kazan got an honorary degree at Yale for "turning the words of the country's leading dramatists into incandescent stage productions." He was the center of attraction in a parade. "If Yale gave him his head he would turn this commencement parade into a super production and get it on Broadway," said one spectator.

"Con Edison To Give Blood"—headline. That should please Mike Quill.

United States has a drugstore exhibit at the Soviet exposition where the Russian exhibit is largely mechanical. Possibly to recall days when the only hot arguments were over banana splits, hair oils and spring tonics.

Some honorary degrees for 1959: Cheevers, Otis X.: For distinguished horse sense. As chairman of a Drive Safely Week campaign you suddenly declared, "Let's face it. The idea one week's effort can get to first base in this frightful situation is crazy. It calls for 51 more weeks of nonstop effort, with cops, courts and the public co-operation." Take any degree in the house, Otis.

Figgsby, Jason Z.: Your outstanding attitude as an airwave official entitles you to your choice of the highest honorary degree for this one remark, "Let's make our commercials sensible, go easy on the jingles and realize that maps of the human torso showing the route (with detours) taken by a pill are for the birds." We are also sending you a case of champagne.

Cooksey, Hilary Q.: We decorate you as the jurist of the year. In handling the case of a notorious hoodlum, who had evaded the police for years, you said, "A bum is a bum is a bum and no lawyer is going to get me to put him under a low bond so he can keep in circulation." One degree for you is not enough, judge.

Beedlekin, Caleb V.: Have a hatful of degrees, sir, as the economist of the year. In giving your opinions you declared, honestly, "I am not POSITIVE." Wottaman!

Goobleniffer, Sydney H.: As a member of Congress you voted four out of seven times on a measure without turning pale and asking yourself, "Will this cost me votes?" That's far better than average and we are not only giving you a degree but a barrel of green stamps.

Wifflecoots, Simeon R.: Few men deserve higher recognition. As a newly chosen yacht club commodore you scorn the coat of a rear admiral. Not only that, but you were careful about the hat.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

"You will be happy as long as you do God's will," said Fred B. Snite, Jr., who lived the last 18 of his 44 years in an iron lung, which he could leave for only 23 minutes at a time or, with a chest respirator, for two hours daily.

Stricken with polio in China while on a world tour, he struggled for life in an iron lung and then made the arduous trip back to America, his life dependent on the flow of electricity. The faith of this devout Catholic was strong. He went to Lourdes, not expecting a miracle, but to ask God, if he were not cured, to give him the strength to live in the tank the rest of his life.

He married and became the father of three children. He attended sports events and church in the lung. He played in championship bridge tournaments. He was known across the nation as the smiling "Boiler Kid."

"Like Frederick, we are all helpless creatures," said his wife Teresa, "but with God's help we can become pillars of strength . . . his real story is of his beautiful soul, his flawless spirituality, his love of God."

Hoffa Moves Into Oil Industry

By Victor Riesel

Crime-cracking Bob Kennedy has cast the McClellan committee's final drama with a full set of characters who will not upstage the star — namely Jim Hoffa. Hoffa will feel in his element at the big hearing scheduled for Tuesday, June 16. The "boys" will play themselves — about 100 of them. They'll all be there under subpoena in one room — all the Fifth Amendment set of past hearings.

Victor Riesel

Counselor Kennedy and Chairman McClellan will make one last effort to produce a picture of raw power — and the raw ones whose muscle made that power. After that, it will be up to the Congress and the public — without benefit of committee. An era will end.

But not the drive of Hoffa and his helots — which is not a dirty word, fellows. The Teamsters will move en masse with precision from the Senate hearing room on the one strategic industry that Jim Hoffa and his power specialist, Harold Gibbons, want most.

THAT'S THE FUEL industry — from which pours the gasoline for all motor transport, the Diesel oil for railroad, barge and ship engines, the high octane gas for commercial passenger and freight airlines and kerosene for the swooshing jets.

Give Hoffa and his strategist, Gibbons, this fuel and they'll set records on the road to power.

During their inner sanctum conversations, it is reported, the Teamster leaders talk not so much of tying all rail, air, ship and truck unions into one coalition — as they talk of weaving the oil refinery unions into their transport network.

A distribution strike at the spout end of the refineries could slow or stall all traffic as easily as if Hoffa had a magic whistle which could stop every wheel in mid-revolution.

This is simple the old warehouse technique. It sometimes isn't enough to control truck traffic. Control the men in the warehouses and a strike closes all firms depending on supplies from those bins.

IT ISN'T ENOUGH for Hoffa to control 150,000 petroleum truck drivers and home fuel deliverers. Hoffa wants the industry from spout to spout — from the crude oil tanks to gas station pumps.

That's why Hoffa personally has been hedge-hopping from Washington to Louisiana, to Texas, to California, to New Jersey, to New England and to points in between.

That's why he has been wooing and wining and dining the leaders of scores of independent oil workers unions in hotels from Miami Beach to the Potomac shores.

His first try was flung at the 20,000 Standard Oil workers — now in something called the Esso Labor Council. More recently he has been conferring with the leaders of some outfits known as the Socony-Mobil Independent Unions.

The Teamsters have their researchers going over data at other companies such as Humble Oil. This is no paper war — if you don't count dollar bills, that is. That Esso Labor Council is real. On it are two delegates from each of the independent unions at Esso plants in six states. They coordinate their "problems" with Hoffa's activities. They confer with Teamster leaders.

IF HOFFA can tie them up in one Teamster Petroleum Division, he can call them out on strike some day.

Then all transport could be threatened with paralysis. Each of the big companies produce some gasoline, some Diesel, some high octane gas. Strike the refineries or the delivery trucks and you needn't strike any other distributive industry to make the nation stand still.

No Diesel oil — no full railroad schedules. No high octane gas — no air travel, no air freight. No engine fuel — no shipping and no barge transport. No gas — no long or short truck hauls.

And no violation of contracts anywhere. The employer simply would not have the fuel. That wouldn't be the local union's fault, would it?

That's why it will be interesting to see the power elite all gathered in one room in the final act of the McClellan drama.

Japs Affirm U.S. Ties

By Raymond Moley

When I arrived in Japan in March, some American "liberals" over there told me with extraordinary assurance that Prime Minister Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party was in a decline and that any day the present Cabinet would fall.

These "liberals" eagerly introduced me to Socialist leaders and left-wing economists for confirmation of their wishful thinking. Underneath it all was the suggestion, subtly conveyed, that the Japanese were yearning for trade with Red China and that if we recognized that regime under the sort of promises freely given by such outfits, Japan would go along, too, and all would be well—or better.

Neutralism was in the air—that is, their air.

I have been no stranger to such wiles. In England before the election in 1950, the same sort assured me that the Socialist government of Attlee would be returned with more than a 100 majority in the House of Commons. "Liberal" propaganda is the same everywhere. The "majority" proved to be two. It is wise to wait until the votes are counted.

However, as I talked with Socialist leaders in Japan in the days that followed my arrival, it became increasingly apparent that there is no real Socialist party. There are only Socialists of all sorts and shapes of ideology.

There was no responsible party at all. And Japan, enjoying the fruits of a prosperity based upon essentially capitalistic institutions, was yearning for no change.

Kishi did not fall, and in the April elections of mayors and governors in the prefectures, conservative Liberal-Democrats won all along the line. This was especially true in Tokyo, the vital center of the nation.

Now, in June, in the election of one-half of the upper house of the National Diet, the House of Councillors, all that the "liberals" and neutrausts were saying in March is refuted. Kishi's party not only held its present control in the House of Councillors but lifted its majority by five seats to 132 in a total of 250.

In the nationwide race for the seats elected at large, the Liberal-Democrats polled more than 12 million votes; the Socialists, 7,700,000. Compared with the vote three years ago, this was a considerable gain for the conservatives and a loss for the Socialists. The small Communists percentage of 2.1 dropped to 1.9.

Considering the firm friendship for the United States constantly emphasized by the Kishi government, this is a clear gain in U.S.-Japan relations. It is a repudiation of neutralization and a rebuff to those who have been advocating the recognition of Red China.

It certainly should be a warning to those American "liberals" who would repudiate our international obligations under the U.N. and to Nationalist China by recognizing the Chinese Communists.

Under the Liberal-Democratic regime there has been encouragement to the growth and strengthening of free enterprise. The tangible evidences of the fruits of this sort of economic liberty are present in more for all—electric appliances and abundant electric power, excellent railway and bus service, more leisure time and reasonable social services by the government.

With an understanding of trade problems by us and more and more economic and cultural intercourse with material capital investment over there by American industry, we may count for an indefinite time upon Japan as our strongest ally in the Far East.

The popular expression, "A little bird told me," is really borrowed from the Bible, Ecclesiastes 10:20, where it reads: "For a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter."

Khaki uniforms were first worn by American soldiers during the Spanish-American War. these being adopted because the regulation dark blue uniforms of that time were too warm for service in the tropics.

U.S., British Parallel

By David Lawrence

Political Status Similar In Both Nations

LONDON

There's an extraordinary parallel between the political situation in Great Britain and in the United States. Conservative governments with a liberal flavor are in power in both countries and both face a general election soon.

David Lawrence

No outstanding issues have yet appeared in either country, though the nature of the running attack on the incumbent party in both Britain and America is very much the same.

Thus, the British Socialist Labor party has been trying to capitalize on the unemployment situation, just as the Democratic party has in the United States but, fortunately, the two countries are emerging from the recent recession and it looks like a boom ahead for both.

Spotty areas of unemployment still exist but the drop in the jobless figure in Britain has also been very sharp in recent weeks. HUMANITY CALLING

By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

AN UNIQUE MINISTRY

It has been thrilling to meet many persons through the years who have been converted to Christ, and who have immediately sought to proclaim the Gospel in their own peculiar manner.

I could tell of a host of "My Most Unforgettable Characters" who have been quickened by the Spirit of God, and have hastened to spread the glorious news through tracts, drama, unusual musical devices, highway signs, art, occupational witness, and so on.

An enthusiastic Salvation Army lassie, Captain Thelma Meirtrott of our Divisional Headquarters in Cleveland, will feature her Gospel puppet presentation in our Citadel this week end.

Captain Meitrott has developed her hobby from discarded toys that have been gathered by our trucks, and with a twinkle in her eyes, she declares that, like many wasted lives, her puppets have been salvaged and are now put to use in the helping of others.

That is truly the purpose of The Salvation Army, searching for "diamonds in the rough", and "to make every soul feel its worth" . . . by proclaiming the greatest miracle of all, that our God can make a Saint of a sinner!

There was a fellow at the plant who was always asking me to go with him to church.

In a way this picture portrays his zeal. For there was something boyishly enthusiastic about his eagerness; something joyously genuine in his confidence.

And his fervor reminded one of the disciples of old who became "fishers of men."

Well, he brought my family to church. Not because he was a salesman or a saint. Simply because he encouraged us to seek the convictions he was so eager to share.

Betty and I, and little Ricky, really owe our cherished faith to the moment that fellow at the plant said, "I'LL STOP BY YOUR PLACE ON SUNDAY MORNING."

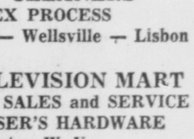

Now, we too, find happiness in bringing our friends and neighbors to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HUMANITY CALLING

By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

AN UNIQUE MINISTRY

It has been thrilling to meet many persons through the years who have been converted to Christ, and who have immediately sought to proclaim the Gospel in their own peculiar manner.

I could tell of a host of "My Most Unforgettable Characters" who have been quickened by the Spirit of God, and have hastened to spread the glorious news through tracts, drama, unusual musical devices, highway signs, art, occupational witness, and so on.

An enthusiastic Salvation Army lassie, Captain Thelma Meirtrott of our Divisional Headquarters in Cleveland, will feature her Gospel puppet presentation in our Citadel this week end.

Captain Meitrott has developed her hobby from discarded toys that have been gathered by our trucks, and with a twinkle in her eyes, she declares that, like many wasted lives, her puppets have been salvaged and are now put to use in the helping of others.

That is truly the purpose of The Salvation Army, searching for "diamonds in the rough", and "to make every soul feel its worth" . . . by proclaiming the greatest miracle of all, that our God can make a Saint of a sinner!

Irondale's Fraley Beats Lawrenceville On 3-Hitter, 2-0

Giants' McCormick Flips No-Hit, 3-0 Victory Over Phils

Vic Reed's 13 Strikeouts Go In Vain

A tight pitcher's duel marked Irondale's 2-0 victory over winless Lawrenceville American Legion in City Baseball League action Friday night at Irondale's Memorial Field.

Little righthander Don Fraley shut out the West Virginia nine by twirling a three-hitter to pick up his first victory of the season.

Fraley, a converted infielder, bested righthander Vic Reed, who was charged with the defeat although fanning 13 batters with his blazing fast ball.

The two squads packed all the action into the first inning as Irondale plated two runs on a walk and singles by infielder Paul Ferry and shortstop Jim Laughlin.

Reed later gained control but Fraley managed to stifle the Lawrenceville entry and preserve his shut out. The victory was the season's third for Manager Bud Santimarino's Irons, against one defeat.

Reed pounded out two of Lawrenceville's three hits including a long double. Catcher Sonny Pugh stroked the other hit for the losers, now in the cellar of the league with four straight defeats.

Irondale got to Reed early in the first inning when Cab Prosco walked and stole second base, advancing to third on a single by Lonnie Fraley.

Laughlin plated one run with a single, and Ferry drove in another with a timely hit. Ferry led the Irons assault with a pair of singles.

Lawrenceville threatened in the seventh inning when the leadoff batter reached first base on an error. However, Fraley retired the next three batters in order on infield grounders and a fly to the outfield.

League leading Cox Construction and the Merchants, in third place, take over the action Sunday at 3 p. m. at Clark Field in Newell.

Huddleston's 1-Hitter Tops Medics, 6-0

Jeff Huddleston hurled a one-hitter for McBurneys to shutout the Medics, 6-0 in one of two Little League contests Friday.

In another game, Travelers picked up a 4-3 win over Laughlins. The Burbick-Chester Legion tilt was postponed because of wet grounds and will be played tonight at Thompson Park.

The McBurney victory marked the debut of Harry Smith, who took over the club Friday replacing Kenny Seibert who resigned.

Bob Woods picked up the victory for Travelers and shared the pitching duties with Larry Radcliff. Together they limited Laughlins to three hits.

Travelers broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning by scoring a pair of runs that proved to be the winning margin.

Radcliff's double was the big blow for Travelers.

Talbott, leadoff batter, nicked Huddleston for Medics' only safety. Huddleston aided his own cause with a double and a single. He fanned eight.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Don Mossi, Tigers, pitched a six-hit, 3-1 victory over the Yankees, walking only two and striking out five as the Tigers gained a third-place tie.

Hitting—Harry Chiti, A's, hit his first home run with two men on base in the fourth inning for 3-2 victory over the Red Sox.

THE TRAINING pace is quickening at Waterford Park. These thoroughbreds work out in the early morning preparing for the opening day Wednesday.

Lane Suffers Cut Eye, Ortiz Wins Junior Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz and Kenny Lane were just settling down to a hard night's work when a cut over Lane's right eye gave the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker the newly revived junior welterweight title.

The controversy over the sudden ending probably will continue until Friday night's Madison Square Garden principals meet again in an Aug. 21 or Aug. 28 rematch.

Dr. Harry Kleiman of the New York State Athletic commission advised Referee Harry Kessler to stop the bout between the second and third rounds. Under New York rules it went as a second round technical knockout. In National Boxing Assn. territory it would have been scored as a third round TKO.

"It was a butt," complained Lane, the talented southpaw from Muskegon, Mich., who is the No. 1 contender to lightweight king Joe Brown.

"It was a right hand punch," said the 22-year-old Ortiz. "But our heads met after the punch."

About 10 stitches were needed to close the gash.

Lane, bitterly disappointed, said "they should have let it go a couple rounds more. I was just getting to him. I would have knocked him out in the eighth or ninth."

Ortiz, who floored Lane for a four-count earlier in the stormy second, said he would welcome a rematch.

"I know I'll knock him out next time," he said. "I'll show everybody I would have won without any argument."

Two officials gave Lane the first and Ortiz the second. Judge Artie Aidala scored both rounds for Ortiz.

Storm Stops Game In 6th; Bucs Beaten

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Call it great," said Manager Bill Rigney.

"Call it lucky," said young lefty Mike McCormick.

Call it a little of both, for McCormick pitched a no-hit shutout in a 3-0 San Francisco victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night that was preserved at five innings by rain.

The Phils' Richie Ashburn singled in the bottom of the sixth and a couple of walks had the bases loaded before the rains came, washing away the frame

It also hoisted the Giants within a single game of Milwaukee's National League leading Braves once more. The Braves were beaten 9-7 at Chicago. Third-place Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 9-6. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 2-1 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Detroit whipped New York 3-1 and jumped into a third-place tie with the Baltimore Orioles, whose game with the first-place Chicago White Sox was rained out. The Cleveland-Washington game also was postponed by rain. Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2.

McCormick, 20, a one-time $50,000 bonus kid, said the short shutout wasn't his best game of the year, although he officially gave up only a fourth-inning walk to Gene Freese. "I wasn't as strong," he explained, "as I was when I beat the Phillies out on the coast last month."

That one was an 8-0 three-hitter. It was a no-hitter for 8 1-3 innings, then Gran Hamner (now with Cleveland) smacked a pinch-hit double.

Friday night's job was McCormick's fourth shutout in a three-year career. It was his third against the Phils, who have been the victims for a third of his 18 victories in the majors.

McCormick (4-5), who had lost two in a row, was given a 1-0 lead in the first on Jim Davenport's triple and an error. Then the Giants, who made three of their five hits off Jack Meyer (4-3) good for extra bases, scored twice in the fifth on a double by Ed Bressoud and Hobie Landrith's second homer.

The Cubs chased Lew Burdette (9-5) with three-run bursts in the first and second innings, opening up with Lee Walls' third homer and Ernie Banks' 16th. They gave John Buzhardt a 9-1 lead, but the young right-hander needed Bill Henry's relief help when the Braves scored five in the seventh, three on Johnny Logan's sixth homer.

Ed Mathews belted a pair of bases-empty home runs for Milwaukee, upping his major league leading total to 22 and once again pulling even with Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

The Dodgers blew a 5-3 lead, scrambled back for a tie and then won with three in the ninth. Norm Larker's pinch-it, two-run single scored the clinchers against losing reliever Bennie Daniels (3-5). The Dodgers, who out-hit the Bucs 17-13, used seven pitchers, with Danny McDevitt (4-6) the winner.

The Cardinals, held to two hits for nine innings, beat the Reds and reliever Tom Acker (1-1) on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter George Crowe after Bill White's single, Ken Boyer's infield hit and a walk had loaded the bases. Lindy McDaniel (4-8) won it in relief of Ernie Broglio.

Casper Fires 68 To Take U. S. Open Lead By Stroke

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Bill Casper, the big guy the golf pros call the man who invented putting, gave himself a lengthy putting lesson the night before the U. S. Open Championship started.

Then he played a "fantastic" first round he says he'd like to forget despite the score of 71. But Friday everything clicked together and Bill came out with a big grin and a score of 71-68—139 that made him the mid-point leader.

Going into the final 36 holes today, the 212-pound ex-sailor from Apple Valley, Calif., had a one-stroke edge over three of the most dangerous rivals you could name—Ben Hogan, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer.

Another stroke back were Doug Ford and Mike Souchak. Three behind at 142 were PGA champion Dow Finsterwald and Ernie Vossler.

Any of them could come up with the winning score tonight. So could some of the others who weren't too far back—Gene Littler, Jay Hebert, Claude Harmon, Cary Middlecoff, Ted Kroll and even Sammy Snead.

It has been that kind of a tournament on the deceptive 6,873-yard, par 70 Winged Foot West Course. Things have been tougher than they seemed—as shown by the fact that 13 players with aggregate scores of 150 were among the 61 qualifiers for the final 36 holes.

Casper, by his own admission, could have been one of these.

"I played a round Thursday, I'd like to forget because it was so fantastic," he said. "If I hadn't been putting well I could have had an 80. Today (Friday) I played much better than I did all last year, when I won five tournaments.

"Today I might shoot an 85."

Casper is a big, strong guy, but his reputation and most of the pro money he has won have come from his putting. Early this week he was having trouble on Winged Foot's greens, but Wednesday evening he practiced an hour and a half and just at the end of the session he got his stroke working right.

Friday he holed putts of 12, 25 and 45 feet for birdies and knocked in an 18-footer for a par on the 12th.

Gary Player, all-around athlete from South Africa, might have been in front of Casper but for one horrible hole which putting couldn't save. That was the 17th—a 444-yard, deeply-trapped monstrosity that's one of the toughest on the course.

Player took a double bogey 6 there, landing in two traps and sending one shot from the sand so close to a tree that he couldn't take a good backswing.

Hogan had a five on the same hole which cost him a 71 for the day and a chance for a share of the lead.

Hogan, a tiring but determined 46-year-old, still is very much in the running in his bid to become the first five-time winner.

Player, rated as potentially one of the greatest golfers in the world, finished second to Tommy Bolt last year. Palmer, Masters champion last year, has won two tournaments so far in 1959.

Littler, one of the first day leaders, Hebert and Harmon, the portly home club pro had 143 scores for 36 holes; two-time champion Middlecoff was in the 144 group and Snead, still on a vain quest for his first National Open victory, had 145.

Littens Gain Sixth Victory

Gary Shaw hurled a three-hitter as Littens picked up their sixth straight victory with a 6-1 win over Woodbine Friday at Dopler Field in the Pony League.

His teammates gave him solid backing with a nine-hit attack paced by Tommy Kraft who collected three hits in four trips to the plate.

The victory gave Littens a big lead in the Pony League since second place Woodbine dropped its third game in six starts.

Dave Bowersock also helped in the victory with a double and a single.

Grace U. P. collected eight hits with Hulme's roundtripper the big blow.

Jim Dickey also connected for a grand slammer to drive in all of First Methodist's runs.

Second Church of Christ whipped First Free Methodist, 6-4, behind the three-hit twirling of Gail Talbott.

G. Talbott slammed four hits to lead the offensive assault of the winners. Bob Talbott and George Wilkinson each showed three hits. Glenn Pease showed a pair of hits for the losers. Harry Cunningham was charged with the pitching defeat.

Calvary Methodist defeated Oakland Free Methodist, 4-1, as Ralph Smith chalked up his second victory of the season with a six-hit performance.

Irondale's Fraley Beats Lawrenceville On 3-Hitter, 2-0

Giants' McCormick Flips No-Hit, 3-0 Victory Over Phils

Vic Reed's 13 Strikeouts Go In Vain

A tight pitcher's duel marked Irondale's 2-0 victory over winless Lawrenceville American Legion in City Baseball League action Friday night at Irondale's Memorial Field.

Little righthander Don Fraley shut out the West Virginia nine by twirling a three-hitter to pick up his first victory of the season.

Fraley, a converted infielder, bested righthander Vic Reed, who was charged with the defeat although fanning 13 batters with his blazing fast ball.

The two squads packed all the action into the first inning as Irondale plated two runs on a walk and singles by infielder Paul Ferry and shortstop Jim Laughlin.

Reed later gained control but Fraley managed to stifle the Lawrenceville entry and preserve his shut out. The victory was the season's third for Manager Bud Santimarino's Irons, against one defeat.

Reed pounded out two of Lawrenceville's three hits including a long double. Catcher Sonny Pugh stroked the other hit for the losers, now in the cellar of the league with four straight defeats.

Irondale got to Reed early in the first inning when Cab Prosco walked and stole second base, advancing to third on a single by Lonnie Fraley.

Laughlin plated one run with a single, and Ferry drove in another with a timely hit. Ferry led the Irons assault with a pair of singles.

Lawrenceville threatened in the seventh inning when the leadoff batter reached first base on an error. However, Fraley retired the next three batters in order on infield grounders and a fly to the outfield.

League leading Cox Construction and the Merchants, in third place, take over the action Sunday at 3 p. m. at Clark Field in Newell.

Huddleston's 1-Hitter Tops Medics, 6-0

Jeff Huddleston hurled a one-hitter for McBurneys to shutout the Medics, 6-0 in one of two Little League contests Friday.

In another game, Travelers picked up a 4-3 win over Laughlins. The Burbick-Chester Legion tilt was postponed because of wet grounds and will be played tonight at Thompson Park.

The McBurney victory marked the debut of Harry Smith, who took over the club Friday replacing Kenny Seibert who resigned.

Bob Woods picked up the victory for Travelers and shared the pitching duties with Larry Radcliff. Together they limited Laughlins to three hits.

Travelers broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning by scoring a pair of runs that proved to be the winning margin.

Radcliff's double was the big blow for Travelers.

Talbott, leadoff batter, nicked Huddleston for Medics' only safety. Huddleston aided his own cause with a double and a single. He fanned eight.

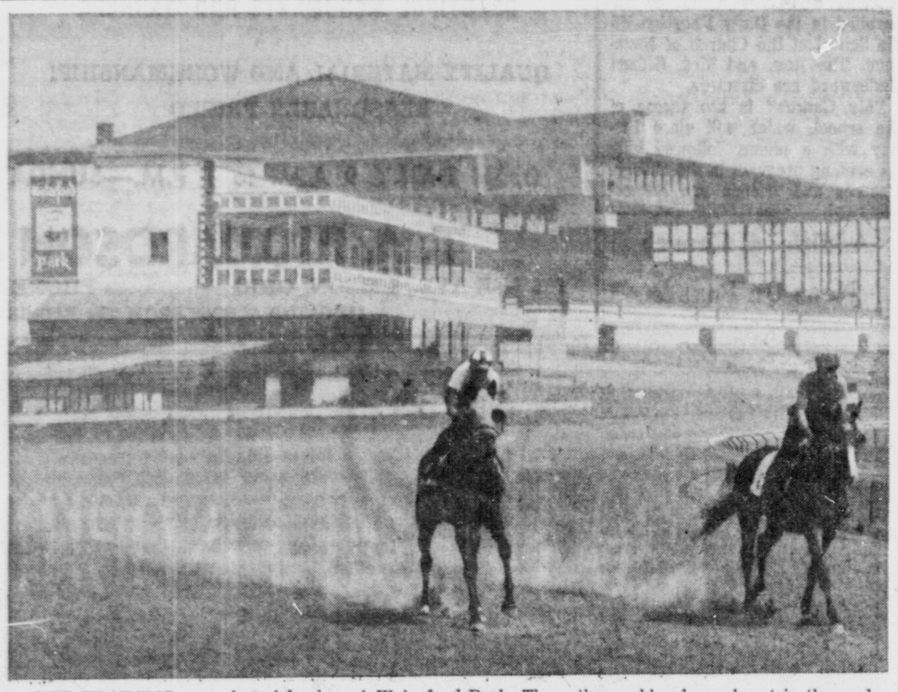

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Don Mossi, Tigers, pitched a six-hit, 3-1 victory over the Yankees, walking only two and striking out five as the Tigers gained a third-place tie.

Hitting—Harry Chiti, A's, hit his first home run with two men on base in the fourth inning for 3-2 victory over the Red Sox.

Lane Suffers Cut Eye, Ortiz Wins Junior Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz and Kenny Lane were just settling down to a hard night's work when a cut over Lane's right eye gave the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker the newly revived junior welterweight title.

The controversy over the sudden ending probably will continue until Friday night's Madison Square Garden principals meet again in an Aug. 21 or Aug. 28 rematch.

Dr. Harry Kleiman of the New York State Athletic commission advised Referee Harry Kessler to stop the bout between the second and third rounds. Under New York rules it went as a second round technical knockout. In National Boxing Assn. territory it would have been scored as a third round TKO.

"It was a butt," complained Lane, the talented southpaw from Muskegon, Mich., who is the No. 1 contender to lightweight king Joe Brown.

"It was a right hand punch," said the 22-year-old Ortiz. "But our heads met after the punch."

About 10 stitches were needed to close the gash.

Lane, bitterly disappointed, said "they should have let it go a couple rounds more. I was just getting to him. I would have knocked him out in the eighth or ninth."

Ortiz, who floored Lane for a four-count earlier in the stormy second, said he would welcome a rematch.

"I know I'll knock him out next time," he said. "I'll show everybody I would have won without any argument."

Two officials gave Lane the first and Ortiz the second. Judge Artie Aidala scored both rounds for Ortiz.

Storm Stops Game In 6th; Bucs Beaten

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Call it great," said Manager Bill Rigney.

"Call it lucky," said young lefty Mike McCormick.

Call it a little of both, for McCormick pitched a no-hit shutout in a 3-0 San Francisco victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night that was preserved at five innings by rain.

The Phils' Richie Ashburn singled in the bottom of the sixth and a couple of walks had the bases loaded before the rains came, washing away the frame

It also hoisted the Giants within a single game of Milwaukee's National League leading Braves once more. The Braves were beaten 9-7 at Chicago. Third-place Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 9-6. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 2-1 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Detroit whipped New York 3-1 and jumped into a third-place tie with the Baltimore Orioles, whose game with the first-place Chicago White Sox was rained out. The Cleveland-Washington game also was postponed by rain. Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2.

McCormick, 20, a one-time $50,000 bonus kid, said the short shutout wasn't his best game of the year, although he officially gave up only a fourth-inning walk to Gene Freese. "I wasn't as strong," he explained, "as I was when I beat the Phillies out on the coast last month."

That one was an 8-0 three-hitter. It was a no-hitter for 8 1-3 innings, then Gran Hamner (now with Cleveland) smacked a pinch-hit double.

Friday night's job was McCormick's fourth shutout in a three-year career. It was his third against the Phils, who have been the victims for a third of his 18 victories in the majors.

McCormick (4-5), who had lost two in a row, was given a 1-0 lead in the first on Jim Davenport's triple and an error. Then the Giants, who made three of their five hits off Jack Meyer (4-3) good for extra bases, scored twice in the fifth on a double by Ed Bressoud and Hobie Landrith's second homer.

The Cubs chased Lew Burdette (9-5) with three-run bursts in the first and second innings, opening up with Lee Walls' third homer and Ernie Banks' 16th. They gave John Buzhardt a 9-1 lead, but the young right-hander needed Bill Henry's relief help when the Braves scored five in the seventh, three on Johnny Logan's sixth homer.

Ed Mathews belted a pair of bases-empty home runs for Milwaukee, upping his major league leading total to 22 and once again pulling even with Babe Ruth's record-60 pace of 1927.

The Dodgers blew a 5-3 lead, scrambled back for a tie and then won with three in the ninth. Norm Larker's pinch-it, two-run single scored the clinchers against losing reliever Bennie Daniels (3-5). The Dodgers, who out-hit the Bucs 17-13, used seven pitchers, with Danny McDevitt (4-6) the winner.

The Cardinals, held to two hits for nine innings, beat the Reds and reliever Tom Acker (1-1) on a sacrifice fly by pinch hitter George Crowe after Bill White's single, Ken Boyer's infield hit and a walk had loaded the bases. Lindy McDaniel (4-8) won it in relief of Ernie Broglio.

Beaver Kettle Bowmen Plan Shoot Sunday

A 28-target field and a 28-target black faced hunters round shoot is planned. Registrations will open at 11:30 a. m. First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in each class. Refreshments will be served.

Plans were completed at a monthly meeting held Thursday night at the course. Plans were also completed for an invitational shoot June 28.

Jim Cunningham, president, conducted business. A work day will be held every Saturday at the field course. All members are urged to help with projects.

Casper Fires 68 To Take U. S. Open Lead By Stroke

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Bill Casper, the big guy the golf pros call the man who invented putting, gave himself a lengthy putting lesson the night before the U. S. Open Championship started.

Then he played a "fantastic" first round he says he'd like to forget despite the score of 71. But Friday everything clicked together and Bill came out with a big grin and a score of 71-68—139 that made him the mid-point leader.

Going into the final 36 holes today, the 212-pound ex-sailor from Apple Valley, Calif., had a one-stroke edge over three of the most dangerous rivals you could name—Ben Hogan, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer.

Another stroke back were Doug Ford and Mike Souchak. Three behind at 142 were PGA champion Dow Finsterwald and Ernie Vossler.

Any of them could come up with the winning score tonight. So could some of the others who weren't too far back—Gene Littler, Jay Hebert, Claude Harmon, Cary Middlecoff, Ted Kroll and even Sammy Snead.

It has been that kind of a tournament on the deceptive 6,873-yard, par 70 Winged Foot West Course. Things have been tougher than they seemed—as shown by the fact that 13 players with aggregate scores of 150 were among the 61 qualifiers for the final 36 holes.

Casper, by his own admission, could have been one of these.

"I played a round Thursday, I'd like to forget because it was so fantastic," he said. "If I hadn't been putting well I could have had an 80. Today (Friday) I played much better than I did all last year, when I won five tournaments.

"Today I might shoot an 85."

Casper is a big, strong guy, but his reputation and most of the pro money he has won have come from his putting. Early this week he was having trouble on Winged Foot's greens, but Wednesday evening he practiced an hour and a half and just at the end of the session he got his stroke working right.

Friday he holed putts of 12, 25 and 45 feet for birdies and knocked in an 18-footer for a par on the 12th.

Gary Player, all-around athlete from South Africa, might have been in front of Casper but for one horrible hole which putting couldn't save. That was the 17th—a 444-yard, deeply-trapped monstrosity that's one of the toughest on the course.

Player took a double bogey 6 there, landing in two traps and sending one shot from the sand so close to a tree that he couldn't take a good backswing.

Hogan had a five on the same hole which cost him a 71 for the day and a chance for a share of the lead.

Hogan, a tiring but determined 46-year-old, still is very much in the running in his bid to become the first five-time winner.

Player, rated as potentially one of the greatest golfers in the world, finished second to Tommy Bolt last year. Palmer, Masters champion last year, has won two tournaments so far in 1959.

Littler, one of the first day leaders, Hebert and Harmon, the portly home club pro had 143 scores for 36 holes; two-time champion Middlecoff was in the 144 group and Snead, still on a vain quest for his first National Open victory, had 145.

Here's How Ohioans Fared In U.S. Open

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Second round scores of Ohioans in the U. S. Open golf championship here Friday. (Scores of 150 or better qualify for final 36 holes today)

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., and Cleveland, 71-69—140.

Jimmy D. Powell, Cleveland, 77-74—151.

Henry Picard, Warrensville, 77-75—152.

Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N.Y., and Cincinnati, 79-74—153.

Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, 77-77—154.

Frank Stranahan, Crystal River, Fla., and Toledo, 76-79—155.

Joseph S. Turner Jr., Woming, 81-75—156.

George P. Bellino, Youngstown, 83-74—157.

Lee Raymond, Toledo, 81-77—158.

Dr. Frank Bellino, Canfield, 81-78—159.

Bob Wolmers, Cincinnati, 80-81—161.

Frank Harned, Cleveland, 83-78—161.

Littens Gain Sixth Victory

Gary Shaw hurled a three-hitter as Littens picked up their sixth straight victory with a 6-1 win over Woodbine Friday at Dopler Field in the Pony League.

His teammates gave him solid backing with a nine-hit attack paced by Tommy Kraft who collected three hits in four trips to the plate.

The victory gave Littens a big lead in the Pony League since second place Woodbine dropped its third game in six starts.

Dave Bowersock also helped in the victory with a double and a single.

Preliminaries Completed In Klumpp Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — Preliminaries are over in the murder trial of blonde Edythe Klumpp. The sober intricacy of testimony starts next.

There are several questions to be answered when the trial resumes next Monday, including the mystery of Mrs. Klumpp's car.

Mrs. Klumpp, 41, part - time home economics teacher and nursery school operator, is accused of killing Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, Oct. 30, and burning the body.

The state says Mrs. Bergen died because she refused to divorce her husband William, with whom Mrs. Klumpp was living.

A jury of six men, six women, made a day-long tour Friday of sites that will crop up in testimony.

Mrs. Klumpp and her attorneys, William F. Hopkins and Harvey Woods, accompanied the panel to stops in Hamilton County.

She declined to go with the jury and court officials to Cowan State Lake in neighboring Clinton County, where the state says she burned the body of Mrs. Bergen.

The problem of Mrs. Klumpp's car came up again Friday. Defense attorney Hopkins has already moved to have the entire auto brought into the courtroom. He refused to say why.

Before Friday's tour started, Judge Frank M. Gusweiler granted a request of prosecutor C. Watson Hover for the jury to see the car.

The state alleges Mrs. Klumpp put Mrs. Bergen's body in the trunk of the auto and drove to school to teach a sewing class that night.

The next day, Oct. 31, the prosecution contends, Mrs. Klumpp took two youngsters with her to Lake Cowan, 45 miles away, and burned the body, although the defendant says the children did not see her do this.

The prosecution also quotes Mrs. Klumpp saying Mrs. Bergen died in the car when shot as the two women struggled over a gun.

The car, stripped of its seats and floor covering, is now in the basement of the Hamilton County court house.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

'You've Got What It Takes!'

I like to spend my summers visiting places associated with the lives of great men who have been an inspiration to me across the years. I find as I linger at the birthplaces or scenes of the labor of these great men, that in some strange and mysterious way, they seem to come close to me and I feel that they are touching my life with their enduring influence. One lovely afternoon last summer, Mrs. Peale and I drove from England across the border into Scotland to visit the little Dumfrieshire village of Ecclefecan. It was a picturesque and quiet place; few travelers seemed to visit it. Yet here was born and is buried one of the most colossal figures that England has ever produced—Thomas Carlyle.

Dr. Peale

I VISITED the poor stonemason's cottage—his father's house—where Carlyle was born. I stood looking down the long road to Edinburgh, a hundred miles away, along which Thomas Carlyle set off one day with scarcely a shilling in his pocket, walking the entire distance—and not knowing that he was walking to greatness, walking to immortality.

It also sat by his gravestone, remembering that this great man might have been buried in Westminister Abbey, but chose instead to be laid to rest in the village of his birth.

Some men were mowing a field next to the cemetery. The odor of new-mown hay carried to where I sat along with the sound of rugged Scots' conversation. And it occurred to me that these men were very much like the fellow townsmen of Carlyle's day.

Carlyle admired the sturdy qualities in people. He described Sir Walter Scott in a splendid sentence: "No sounder piece of British manhood was turned out in the Eighteenth Century of time." These words are typical of Carlyle. Indeed the word "manhood" might be taken as the very keynote of his life and thought.

FOR AS Carlyle understood the paths of man upon this earth, life asks of each of us only one simple question: Will you be a hero or will you be a coward?

And the essence of Carlyle's message is an answer to this question. It is equally simple: Never give up and never give in. No matter what, never give in. Fight it through. God will help you. Perhaps a chief reason for Carlyle's enduring influence is that he reminded people that "You've got what it takes."

Now, that certainly is a man-sized philosophy of life. And where did Carlyle acquire that philosophy? Why, he got it out of a book that was always present in every Scottish home, the most rugged book ever put together.

To find the sources of Carlyle's philosophy, all you have to do is read the Bible. And it works the other way around, too, because, when you have read a man like Carlyle, you are better able to appreciate the greatness of the Bible.

Do some thinking about the attitude of never giving up and never giving in. Open your Bible to the Book of Joshua and you will find these words: "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neigher be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee withersoever thou goest."

And that is the technique of answering the great question life aaks of each of us: Will you be a hero or will you be a coward?

Read writers like Carlyle who teach strong thinking and living, and read the Bible, and you will learn that God has given us every faculty and power we need for achieving what Carlyle described as "manhood."

The great fact of human existence is that each of us, really down deep, has what it takes for victorious, instead of unsuccessful, living, for strength instead of weakness. Really...you've got what it takes!

Parents Warned To Prevent Fire Calls By Children

An appeal was made today for parents to watch the use of the telephone by children and to caution them against turning in false alarms.

Chief Charles Bryan pointed out a false alarm Thursday morning was the latest in a series, apparently all made by the same child.

The telephoned alarm was received at 10:50 a. m. from a child reporting a brush fire on Riley Ave. When firemen arrived in the vicinity, no trace of a fire could be found.

The child called back later, the chief said, to inquire if the fire had been extinguished and then laughed and hung up.

He theorized the calls apparently are being made by a youngster whose parents are either working or pay no attention when he uses the telephone.

"If we can find out who is making the calls, we are going to prosecute," the chief warned.

He pointed out a false alarm could deprive a family of needed fire equipment in event of a real blaze. With a lack of radio communications to recall equipment or send it to a new fire, a delay of a few minutes could be the difference between a minor fire and a disaster, Bryan pointed out.

$175 Million Seen Cost To Employers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Administrator James Young of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation estimates that an Ohio House bill to liberalize workmen's compensation would cost employers around 175 million dollars a year. That would compare with 100 million dollars in annual premiums they now pay.

He made the estimate at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle at the latter's Cabinet meeting Friday. The bill is currently stymied in a House committee.

Jefferson County Hit By Tent Caterpillars

The spring invasion of tent caterpillars in Jefferson County was the worst in 25 years, according to F. P. (Pop) Taylor, county agricultural agent, at Steubenville.

The caterpillars caused heavy damage to wild cherry trees and left most stripped of leaves, the agent reported.

Taylor said the large, silken webs of the caterpillars will probably remain on the trees until fall.

The unusual amount of the pests apparently occurred because of failure of some of their natural enemies to appear this spring.

Preliminaries Completed In Klumpp Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — Preliminaries are over in the murder trial of blonde Edythe Klumpp. The sober intricacy of testimony starts next.

There are several questions to be answered when the trial resumes next Monday, including the mystery of Mrs. Klumpp's car.

Mrs. Klumpp, 41, part - time home economics teacher and nursery school operator, is accused of killing Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, Oct. 30, and burning the body.

The state says Mrs. Bergen died because she refused to divorce her husband William, with whom Mrs. Klumpp was living.

A jury of six men, six women, made a day-long tour Friday of sites that will crop up in testimony.

Mrs. Klumpp and her attorneys. William F. Hopkins and Harvey Woods, accompanied the panel to stops in Hamilton County.

She declined to go with the jury and court officials to Cowan State Lake in neighboring Clinton County, where the state says she burned the body of Mrs. Bergen.

The problem of Mrs. Klumpp's car came up again Friday. Defense attorney Hopkins has already moved to have the entire auto brought into the courtroom. He refused to say why.

Before Friday's tour started, Judge Frank M. Gusweiler granted a request of prosecutor C. Watson Hover for the jury to see the car.

The state alleges Mrs. Klumpp put Mrs. Bergen's body in the trunk of the auto and drove to school to teach a sewing class that night.

The next day, Oct. 31, the prosecution contends, Mrs. Klumpp took two youngsters with her to Lake Cowan, 45 miles away, and burned the body, although the defendant says the children did not see her do this.

The prosecution also quotes Mrs. Klumpp saying Mrs. Bergen died in the car when shot as the two women struggled over a gun.

The car, stripped of its seats and floor covering, is now in the basement of the Hamilton County court house.

In 1907 the idea of a Flag Day observance was suggested at the annual grand lodge convention of the Elks in Philadelphia. At the 1908 convention in Dallas, Tex., the ritual was approved and in the 1911 session at Atlantic City it was made mandatory for all lodges.

At that time the date was set for June 14. This later was changed so that lodges could hold the service on any date desired.

Parents Warned To Prevent Fire Calls By Children

An appeal was made today for parents to watch the use of the telephone by children and to caution them against turning in false alarms.

Chief Charles Bryan pointed out a false alarm Thursday morning was the latest in a series, apparently all made by the same child.

The telephoned alarm was received at 10:50 a. m. from a child reporting a brush fire on Riley Ave. When firemen arrived in the vicinity, no trace of a fire could be found.

The child called back later, the chief said, to inquire if the fire had been extinguished and then laughed and hung up.

He theorized the calls apparently are being made by a youngster whose parents are either working or pay no attention when he uses the telephone.

"If we can find out who is making the calls, we are going to prosecute," the chief warned.

He pointed out a false alarm could deprive a family of needed fire equipment in event of a real blaze. With a lack of radio communications to recall equipment or send it to a new fire, a delay of a few minutes could be the difference between a minor fire and a disaster, Bryan pointed out.

$175 Million Seen Cost To Employers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Administrator James Young of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation estimates that an Ohio House bill to liberalize workmen's compensation would cost employers around 175 million dollars a year. That would compare with 100 million dollars in annual premiums they now pay.

Jefferson County Hit By Tent Caterpillars

The spring invasion of tent caterpillars in Jefferson County was the worst in 25 years, according to F. P. (Pop) Taylor, county agricultural agent, at Steubenville.

The caterpillars caused heavy damage to wild cherry trees and left most stripped of leaves, the agent reported.

Taylor said the large, silken webs of the caterpillars will probably remain on the trees until fall.

The unusual amount of the pests apparently occurred because of failure of some of their natural enemies to appear this spring.

As The Republicans Have Done

Democrats Flock To 'Pork Barrel'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — With most eyes in the Statehouse turned toward the tumult and the shouting over more controversial issues, one interesting activity during the last week went almost unnoticed.

It was the rush to pour fat into the "pork barrel."

The pork barrel, of course, is the bill to appropriate nearly 100 million dollars for capital improvements throughout the state during the next biennium. It includes building, expansion and improvement projects at the state universities, mental hospitals, parks, lakes and many other installations around Ohio.

Its foundation is the detailed, six-year capital plan drawn by a board made up of three Republican and three Democratic legislators plus three state officials. The plan, revised periodically by law, is aimed at providing continuing progress in improving state facilities for its citizens.

-:-

SO THE BILL is basically sound and desirable. But it is also a tempting vessel for political gravy.

The politicos in power find it pretty hard to resist the temptation. Veteran observers will tell you the Republicans are old hands at yielding to the temptation. Now that they hold the legislative reins for the first time in 10 years, the Democrats don't seem to be resisting too hard, either.

That showed up during the week when the House Finance Committee got around to making changes in the bill's original appropriations.

One of the most interesting items was the addition of $550,000 for Belmont Lake in Belmont County. Although the lake has been in the proposal stage for a decade and some land even has been bought for it, it was not in the capital plan for the next biennium.

-:-

A CLUE to its sudden appearance in the "pork barrel" bill could be found in Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's meeting a couple of weeks ago with Democratic senators who had proved balky about his tax program.

One of them was Sen. Arthur Blake of Belmont County, who told the governor one of his complaints was that he couldn't get any money for Belmont Lake.

Later the same week he voted for a couple of the tax bills.

Last week the whopping Belmont Lake appropriation showed up in the House committee, offered in the name of respected Rep. A. G. Lancione, also of Belmont County.

Another interesting item was the allowance of $75,000 (later raised in committee to $100,000) for buying land for the proposed McConnell Creek Lake in Scioto County.

This was a direct reversal of the policy indicated earlier by the administration that it would go along with the Natural Resources Commission's view that no new state parks should be started until the 54 present ones have been fully developed.

-:-

THE McCONNELL Creek project was one of five found feasible after engineering surveys authorized by the last session of the Legislature. None of the other four appeared in the bill.

One, Caesarcreek Lake in Greene County, was proposed for the next biennium by a Republican member of the Finance Committee, Rep. Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Dayton. His request was dispensed with in short order.

Another, Hugle Run Lake in Stark County, entered the picture in the protest of Rep. Bernice K. MacKenzie (D-Stark) against including the Scioto item. She told the committee:

"The people of my county would be very interested in having Hugle Run Lake. But I have opposed it from the beginning of this session because I understood the state was short of money.

"If that's the case, I think priority should be given to other crying needs and such projects as this should be delayed until adequate funds are available."

-:-

WHY DID McConnell Creek Lake make it? Best clue is that Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., a freshman Democrat from Scioto County, has been a down-the-line supporter of the administration's program and was a sponsor of the ill-fated, party-platform bill to change the utility rate base formula. He has been working hard in the governor's office to get some money for the lake project.

There are some other items, too, none of them included in the capital plan for the next biennium:

$20,000 for parking facilities at the Summit County Receiving Hospital. The administration leader for whom this "favor" was intended was heard to remark that the hospital easily could do without the new lot.

$20,000 for parking facilities at Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown. Rep. George Tablack is chairman of the Finance Committee and Rep. Thomas J. Barrett is a member. Both are from Mahoning County.

$74,250 for a fishing lake in Jefferson County, proposed by Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson), another strong administration backer and law partner of the Jefferson County Democratic chairman.

-:-

ONE REPUBLICAN request that did win the committee's acceptance was for $20,000 to study the feasibility of building a lake in Adams County. It was sponsored by Rep. William C. Games.

Also a part of the picture was the committee's refusal to strike out $311,500 slated for new buildings at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia.

Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. and Mrs. MacKenzie argued that in view of a proposed study of the advisability of continuing the operation of the home, it would be unwise to spend any more money on it until the study report is in.

Despite considerable sympathy with the argument among even the Democrats, political "realism" won out. One thing no party wants is to court the wrath of veterans organizations.

All this may be common political practice by the "realists" in the game. But that doesn't make acceptance any easier for the "idealists" who try to believe the high - sounding declarations of "principle in government."

Rep. Moore Asks End Of Transportation Tax

Rep. Arch Moore of Moundsville, 1st District congressman, has introduced a bill to repeal the wartime - imposed tax on public transportation.

Rep. Moore said the 10 per cent excise tax, although serving to restrict travel during the war, is now only a burden to the transportation industry and public. He said the tax has pushed up costs and contributed to the decline of the nation's common carriers.

As The Republicans Have Done

Democrats Flock To 'Pork Barrel'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — With most eyes in the Statehouse turned toward the tumult and the shouting over more controversial issues, one interesting activity during the last week went almost unnoticed.

It was the rush to pour fat into the "pork barrel."

The pork barrel, of course, is the bill to appropriate nearly 100 million dollars for capital improvements throughout the state during the next biennium. It includes building, expansion and improvement projects at the state universities, mental hospitals, parks, lakes and many other installations around Ohio.

Its foundation is the detailed, six-year capital plan drawn by a board made up of three Republican and three Democratic legislators plus three state officials. The plan, revised periodically by law, is aimed at providing continuing progress in improving state facilities for its citizens.

-:-

SO THE BILL is basically sound and desirable. But it is also a tempting vessel for political gravy.

The politicos in power find it pretty hard to resist the temptation. Veteran observers will tell you the Republicans are old hands at yielding to the temptation. Now that they hold the legislative reins for the first time in 10 years, the Democrats don't seem to be resisting too hard, either.

That showed up during the week when the House Finance Committee got around to making changes in the bill's original appropriations.

One of the most interesting items was the addition of $550,000 for Belmont Lake in Belmont County. Although the lake has been in the proposal stage for a decade and some land even has been bought for it, it was not in the capital plan for the next biennium.

-:-

A CLUE to its sudden appearance in the "pork barrel" bill could be found in Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's meeting a couple of weeks ago with Democratic senators who had proved balky about his tax program.

One of them was Sen. Arthur Blake of Belmont County, who told the governor one of his complaints was that he couldn't get any money for Belmont Lake.

Later the same week he voted for a couple of the tax bills.

Last week the whopping Belmont Lake appropriation showed up in the House committee, offered in the name of respected Rep. A. G. Lancione, also of Belmont County.

Another interesting item was the allowance of $75,000 (later raised in committee to $100,000) for buying land for the proposed McConnell Creek Lake in Scioto County.

This was a direct reversal of the policy indicated earlier by the administration that it would go along with the Natural Resources Commission's view that no new state parks should be started until the 54 present ones have been fully developed.

-:-

THE McCONNELL Creek project was one of five found feasible after engineering surveys authorized by the last session of the Legislature. None of the other four appeared in the bill.

One, Caesarcreek Lake in Greene County, was proposed for the next biennium by a Republican member of the Finance Committee, Rep. Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Dayton. His request was dispensed with in short order.

Another, Hugle Run Lake in Stark County, entered the picture in the protest of Rep. Bernice K. MacKenzie (D-Stark) against including the Scioto item. She told the committee:

"The people of my county would be very interested in having Hugle Run Lake. But I have opposed it from the beginning of this session because I understood the state was short of money.

"If that's the case, I think priority should be given to other crying needs and such projects as this should be delayed until adequate funds are available."

-:-

WHY DID McConnell Creek Lake make it? Best clue is that Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr., a freshman Democrat from Scioto County, has been a down-the-line supporter of the administration's program and was a sponsor of the ill-fated, party-platform bill to change the utility rate base formula. He has been working hard in the governor's office to get some money for the lake project.

There are some other items, too, none of them included in the capital plan for the next biennium:

$20,000 for parking facilities at the Summit County Receiving Hospital. The administration leader for whom this "favor" was intended was heard to remark that the hospital easily could do without the new lot.

$20,000 for parking facilities at Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown. Rep. George Tablack is chairman of the Finance Committee and Rep. Thomas J. Barrett is a member. Both are from Mahoning County.

$74,250 for a fishing lake in Jefferson County, proposed by Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson), another strong administration backer and law partner of the Jefferson County Democratic chairman.

-:-

ONE REPUBLICAN request that did win the committee's acceptance was for $20,000 to study the feasibility of building a lake in Adams County. It was sponsored by Rep. William C. Games.

Also a part of the picture was the committee's refusal to strike out $311,500 slated for new buildings at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia.

Republican Rep. Robert Taft Jr. and Mrs. MacKenzie argued that in view of a proposed study of the advisability of continuing the operation of the home, it would be unwise to spend any more money on it until the study report is in.

Despite considerable sympathy with the argument among even the Democrats, political "realism" won out. One thing no party wants is to court the wrath of veterans organizations.

All this may be common political practice by the "realists" in the game. But that doesn't make acceptance any easier for the "idealists" who try to believe the high - sounding declarations of "principle in government."

Boosters Present Jackets To 26 In Squad At Midland

Some 26 members of the Midland Lincoln High School basketball team were presented jackets at a meeting of the Leopard Boosters Club Friday evening in the American Legion home.

Some 60 attended following a business meeting at which by-laws were adopted. Coach George Hamilton screened movies of tournament play at the Pitt Field House in Pittsburgh. Angelo Cellini, president, presented jackets.

A buffet lunch and refreshments were served. Pete Benedict and Gene Bruno were in charge of food and Milan Vranes and James Harty, refreshments.

Cellini said plans were made for a picnic next Saturday at Crucible park and that anyone can attend. He said there will be a four-team softball tournament at 1 p. m. with the final playoff at 7 p. m. Tony Verzella will be in charge.

A Little League game between the Cardinals and the Giants, scheduled Monday, will be played Saturday at 5 p. m., Cellini said.

Rep. Moore Asks End Of Transportation Tax

Rep. Arch Moore of Moundsville, 1st District congressman, has introduced a bill to repeal the wartime - imposed tax on public transportation.

Rep. Moore said the 10 per cent excise tax, although serving to restrict travel during the war, is now only a burden to the transportation industry and public. He said the tax has pushed up costs and contributed to the decline of the nation's common carriers.

The best and safest way to wash an electric blanket is to wash it by hand in detergents or soap because dry-cleaning fluids damage the insulating materials on the fine electric wires in the blanket.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of MRS. PANSY LARKINS, who passed away 20 years ago today, JUNE 13, 1939. Our love for her has never waned, though many years have passed. The memory of her, remains so clear and shining bright, an everlasting inspiration to the Christian way of life. And a hope to once more see her in that home beyond the skies. Elizabeth Hall, Winifred Johnston, and Jenny Scaletti.

3 CARD OF THANKS

IN rememberance of my loving wife, HELEN, who passed away 3 years ago today, June 13. She bid no one a last farewell, she said goodbye to none. Her loving heart has ceased to beat, before we knew she'd gone. She did not fail to do her best; she worked so hard for those she left. She now lies asleep in a bed of rest, her heart was true and tender. And to all who loved her will remember. Sadly missed by husband, Harvey M. Brewer and children.

EAST LIVERPOOL American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 4 wishes to thank all persons who contributed so generously to make our Poppy Day a success. We thank also the workers.

AMAZING NEW PURITRON®
HAILED BY DOCTORS
FOR RELIEF OF
HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, SINUS, ALLERGIES

Just plug in: it's portable!

A remarkable new "Puritron" has been developed by electronic scientists. It is being acclaimed by doctors after they buy it and see it work in their own homes, for their own families—and for their patients in their offices and operating rooms.

PURITRON clears any room of irritating dust, odors, pollen and smoke. It's better than a kitchen exhaust fan.

READ WHAT DOCTORS AND USERS SAY ABOUT PURITRON!

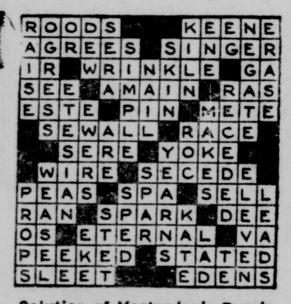

"Surpassed all expectations. Performs miracles for a dust allergy patient" (Pennsylvania doctor) . . . "For the first time I woke up without sinus trouble" New Jersey MD) . . . "Controlled a stubborn form of respiratory allergy in my daughter, age 5" (Southern physician)

"First time in 13 years my son has slept with his mouth closed . . . not fighting to breathe. No sore throat, no cracked lips. To the inventor and manufacturer, my thanks." ● "Tried so far only one day and found it gave marvelous relief. Thanks!" ● "I get asthma with hay fever and that's why I bought Puritron. Believe me it is wonderful. Makes me breathe easier . . . . and sleep.

45 Will Attend Field Day For Lions Members

Some 45 reservations have been made for the Lions Club's annual field day Wednesday afternoon at the East Palestine Country Club at Negley.

Reservations must be turned in by Monday for the golfing event, James Johnston reported at the club's meeting Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Harry (Jud) English, director of sales and services of the Columbiana County Motor Club, discussed the services the club offers its 8,875 members.

The motor club is the largest civic organization in Columbiana county, incorporated "not for profit" and is affiliated with the Ohio State Automobile Association and the American Automobile Association.

Over 50 services are available to members, English said. They include emergency road service, accident insurance, appearance and bail bonds, tour and travel information, license plate distribution, hotel reservations, legislative representation, free notary service and airline ticket agency.

The club also sponsors an extensive school safety program and assists with driver training instruction.

Membership costs $15 the first year and $12 a year thereafter while associate memberships for other members of a family are $6 and dependent memberships for non-drivers are $3, English said.

He was introduced by Ed Custer, program chairman.

Don Baxter, president, reminded members the club will be observing its 35th anniversary this year.

Geneva Receives Gift Of $30,000

BEAVER FALLS — A gift of $38,000 to the Geneva College Building Fund by the Babcock and Wilcox Co. was announced Friday by William J. Thomas, company vice president in charge of the Tubular Products Division here.

The amount is the largest given by the company to any educational institution in the tri-state area since the company division was established here in 1904.

In presenting the gift, Thomas said, "Babcock and Wilcox always has been appreciative of the educational, cultural and economic contribution that Geneva College has made to this area. The company is particularly happy to be able to play a part in this building program through which Geneva is planning to meet its needs for additional physical facilities. We know that Geneva will continue to be a constructive influence in the life of our area."

45 Will Attend Field Day For Lions Members

Some 45 reservations have been made for the Lions Club's annual field day Wednesday afternoon at the East Palestine Country Club at Negley.

Reservations must be turned in by Monday for the golfing event, James Johnston reported at the club's meeting Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Harry (Jud) English, director of sales and services of the Columbiana County Motor Club, discussed the services the club offers its 8,875 members.

The motor club is the largest civic organization in Columbiana county, incorporated "not for profit" and is affiliated with the Ohio State Automobile Association and the American Automobile Association.

Over 50 services are available to members, English said. They include emergency road service, accident insurance, appearance and bail bonds, tour and travel information, license plate distribution, hotel reservations, legislative representation, free notary service and airline ticket agency.

The club also sponsors an extensive school safety program and assists with driver training instruction.

Membership costs $15 the first year and $12 a year thereafter while associate memberships for other members of a family are $6 and dependent memberships for non-drivers are $3, English said.

He was introduced by Ed Custer, program chairman.

Don Baxter, president, reminded members the club will be observing its 35th anniversary this year.

BEAVER FALLS — A gift of $38,000 to the Geneva College Building Fund by the Babcock and Wilcox Co. was announced Friday by William J. Thomas, company vice president in charge of the Tubular Products Division here.

The amount is the largest given by the company to any educational institution in the tri-state area since the company division was established here in 1904.

In presenting the gift, Thomas said, "Babcock and Wilcox always has been appreciative of the educational, cultural and economic contribution that Geneva College has made to this area. The company is particularly happy to be able to play a part in this building program through which Geneva is planning to meet its needs for additional physical facilities. We know that Geneva will continue to be a constructive influence in the life of our area."
